Cabinet Aides Get Training Responsibility

Secretaries To Face Rap for Any Future Boners in Manuals

WASHINGTON (AP) —The secretaries of the Army, Air Force and Navy will be held personally responsible for any more "glaring inaccuracies" or lack of common sense and good taste in their training manuals.

That word came Friday from the boss of the Pentagon, Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. He ordered a sweeping review of all service publications after several turned up that he said were "inappropriate to military training."

The Air Force so far has been the main producer of training manuals that have raised public outcry. The latest was one that charged that some Protestant clergymen were card-carrying Communists, that a large proportion of those who revised the King James version of the Bible were members of Red fronts.

That came on top of some other Air Force manuals: One was for enlisted men assigned to attend the personal wants of general officers. It told them how to greet guests at the door of the general's home, how to mix drinks, even how to wash the general's dog and polish his shoes.

The manuals were repudiated and withdrawn when they came to light.

Secretary of the Air Force Dudley C. Sharp disclosed that the manual referring to Communist infiltration of churches was written by Homer H. Hyde, a civilian employee at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas.

At Lackland, Hyde, 54, defendant, defended his pamphlet. "I felt the manual could not be completely effective as a tool for combatting communistic activities with which the NCO might come in contact either on or off duty unless he had all the evidence of such activity available to him that it was possible to provide," he said.

But Maj. Gen. Robert M. Stillman, commander of the base training center, said "Mr. Hyde did deviate from the planned outline of this manual without authority. And it was completely inappropriate. His supervisors erred seriously in failing to pick this up."

Hyde is a member of a San Antonio Baptist church. "I am not ashamed of my religious beliefs," he said, but added that they were "not necessarily" reflected in the manual.

He said his sources for the pamphlet were Circuit Riders, Inc., of Cincinnati. Dr. Billy James Hargis, a radio evangelist from Tulsa, Okla., an editorial in the San Antonio Light and a government bulletin he identified as "Communism and Religion."

City's Stores Offer True Value Monday

Monday Circleville merchants will present an array of true value bargains, a special offering for George Washington's Birthday.

Advertisements in today's edition of The Herald, along with ads in yesterday's paper, show the bargains available to shoppers here Monday. Washington, of course, was known for telling the truth. To tell the truth, this special sale offers some true values, too.

Chessman Case Causes Hassle

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown's 60-day reprieve for Caryl Chessman, popular with opponents of capital punishment, stirred a mounting storm of criticism today.

In Sacramento, legislators protested that the governor proposed to dump the problem in their laps by calling a special session in March—concurrent with the budget session—to reconsider abolishing the death penalty in the state.

In Washington, D.C., critics blasted the State Department for notifying the governor of adverse reaction to be expected in South America by President Eisenhower if the Chessman execution should take place. The President starts a four-nation, South American tour next week.

Brown, when he announced he was calling off Chessman's execution scheduled for 10 a.m. Friday to let the California Legislature decide the issue of capital punishment, said he also had given serious consideration to the message from Asst. Secretary of State Roy R. Rubottom Jr. It said hostile demonstrations could be expected in Uruguay and Brazil if the 38-year-old convict-author should be executed in San Quentin.

Governmental leaders in Uruguay applauded the reprieve. Western Europe generally approved the action but criticized the motive.

Chessman, convicted in Los Angeles in 1948 of robbery and kidnapping involving forcing two women into unnatural sex acts, has evaded death in a dramatic, 11½-year legal fight with which many opponents of capital punishment identify themselves.

He spent Friday relaxing and conferring with his lawyers. Asked how he felt about the governor's decision, Chessman replied: "I'm feeling I had expected to be dead."

In Washington, senators criticized the State Department's alleged intervention as impinging on states rights. "Unwarranted interference with the judicial processes of a state," said Sen. Gordon Allot (R-Colo.) of the State Department message.

"Very questionable procedure," said Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. But it was in Sacramento that storm clouds loomed, where Brown, an avowed foe of capital punishment, had set the stage for a spectacular fight with the Legislature which has beaten down efforts to ban capital punishment several times in the past 27 years.

When U.S. proposals finally were presented to the meeting about a week ago, some of the allies found them lacking in boldness and imagination. The second stage of Western talks on disarmament policy was completed Friday by the men who will do the actual negotiating with delegations from five Soviet bloc countries at the Geneva conference. Three of these top men, Jules Moch of France, David Ormsby Gore of Britain and Gaetano Martino of Italy left Friday night for their home capitals.

The top five including Frederick M. Eaton of the United States and Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada, expect to meet again, probably in Paris, in early March. The talks here have been secret and the nature of the differences—apart from Allied disappointment with an apparent lack of U.S. leadership—has not been disclosed.

However, the impression among reasonably well-informed diplomats is that France is sticking to its line of wanting to concentrate on control of delivery systems for nuclear weapons and that the British generally favor a bolder and more hopeful approach than some of the other allies. So far the discussions appear to have been guided chiefly by a well-developed British plan.

Police Chief Sam Marshall of Lynchburg said, "They came down that way in between two houses and he (Crum) whirled around and started shooting."

Four bullets, including the one that hit Wilson, went through the windshield of the car. Shaffer said he snapped off two shots but was unable to see if he hit the man.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Robert Lee Lyons, 33, convicted killer of a Cleveland police officer, was executed in the Ohio Penitentiary electric chair Friday night.

Lyons was convicted on three counts of first-degree murder by Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court for fatally shooting Cleveland Police Lt. Edward G. Lentz on Dec. 9, 1957. The officer was trying to apprehend Lyons and two companions for investigation of a robbery.

The companions—James Davis and Dallas Milam—were also tried. Davis was sentenced to life imprisonment in Ohio Penitentiary, but Milam later received a new trial by order of an appellate court and was acquitted.

Ohio Teamster Chief Is Loser on Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal district judge has turned down a move by William Presser, high-ranking Ohio Teamsters Union official, to have Presser's contempt of Congress conviction set aside. Judge James W. Morris, who on Feb. 2 convicted Presser on the charge, also refused to order a new trial for the Teamster boss.

Morris said Friday that after rehearing the trial arguments he still felt Presser was guilty.

County, City, Federal Offices Close Monday

Most county, state and federal offices will close Monday to observe George Washington's birthday. The Chillicothe Social Security district office will be closed as well as the local store of the State Liquor Department.

County offices closed include all courthouse departments, the public library, Circleville Municipal Court and city offices. The Post Office closes along with all banks. Circleville merchants will remain open to conduct a Washington's birthday sale.

30 Horrified Children See Girl Killed on School Bus

Escapee Heads For Hillsboro

Wilmington Fugitive Steals Auto, Flees

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP) — A man believed to be fugitive Everett Crum held up a funeral director here shortly after 9 a. m. today, stole his station wagon and fled out of town.

The theft of the automobile came several hours after two Hillsboro policemen, participating in a manhunt for Crum, exchanged shots in the darkness with a man who apparently was Crum.

Between 30 and 40 law officers were in the search for Crum, who escaped Thursday from the city jail at Wilmington and who wounded two officers in Lynchburg that night.

Searchers immediately started in pursuit of the green and white station wagon (1956 Ford) stolen this morning from Hope Miller. Miller told police the engine of his station wagon was running and he was loading a cot into it when a man walked past and then returned. He said the man had his hand in his pocket and said "I've got a gun on me," as he approached Miller.

"I've got to get out of town and I want you to take me," the man added.

Miller said he told the man he didn't want to go but that he could take the car. He said the man jumped into the station wagon and raced away.

Miller said he had known Crum and he was sure the holdup man was the fugitive. A description also fitted that of Crum.

The earlier shooting occurred as officers were searching along railroad tracks for Crum. Sgt. Robert Martin and Sgt. Willard Carr saw a man in the darkness and shots were exchanged when he refused to stop.

The man fled in the darkness and eluded pursuit. Ernest Wilson, 31, a special deputy in Lynchburg, was in critical condition in a Dayton hospital after being shot in the head. His partner, Harold Shaffer, was grazed by a bullet.

Crum had been held after a burglary in Wilmington, about 20 miles northwest of here. At midnight Friday, deputies reported they had tracked Crum to the Highland County fairgrounds just outside Hillsboro and hope to recapture him by morning.

Crum, trying to fool the trackers, went off on numerous false trails while working his way in this direction.

Shaffer and Wilson had caught a glimpse of Crum in a Lynchburg alley Thursday night and started after him. Police Chief Sam Marshall of Lynchburg said, "They came down that way in between two houses and he (Crum) whirled around and started shooting."

Four bullets, including the one that hit Wilson, went through the windshield of the car. Shaffer said he snapped off two shots but was unable to see if he hit the man.

A PRINCE OF THE REALM — Crowds surge against the gate of Buckingham palace in hopes of reading the one-foot, gilt-edged notice announcing the birth of a prince to Queen Elizabeth II. The baby becomes second in line to the throne. He was the first child born to a reigning British sovereign in 163 years.

Hauck, King Held for Jury

Muny Court Sets Bonds at $3,000

Ralph C. Hauck, 22, Route 1, Hebron, and Ernest H. King, 19, Route 1, Ashville, appeared in Circleville Municipal Court yesterday to face charges of burglary and grand larceny.

Each was bound to the Pickaway County Grand Jury under $3,000 bond. They entered pleas of guilty.

Bond was set at $1,500 on each charge. Hauck and King were cited for burglary and grand larceny at the General Hardware Store in Ashville.

The two men were apprehended Tuesday, Hauck in London after wrecking the stolen car he was driving near Sedalia and King at his home near Ashville.

BOTH admitted taking part in at least 24 burglaries and a car theft in Pickaway County in January and February. They were taken into custody by Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff and held for an extensive investigation.

King's wife and a 17-year-old Columbus girl friend of Hauck still are under investigation. According to the affidavits filed by Sheriff Radcliff, Hauck and King are accused of taking guns and ammunition valued at $338.97 and $96 in cash from the Ashville hardware store on January 20. The accused men told the sheriff the guns were tossed into Big Walnut Creek.

Sheriff Radcliff said a sizable amount of loot was recovered at the King home. The car allegedly wrecked by Hauck was taken from the Heywood - Mercer Agency in Ashville on the night of February 3.

Alertness on the part of Night Jailer Marion Hoover led to Hauck's apprehension. He heard details of the car crash on his office radio early Tuesday morning. A further check disclosed that the auto involved was the one stolen at Ashville.

Hauck was picked up in London a few hours after the crash, following a widespread manhunt in Madison County. King, his wife and the Columbus girl were implicated following Sheriff Radcliff's interrogation of Hauck.

Finch Defense Claims Victory

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The defense in the Finch murder trial has won an important victory. Presiding Judge Walter R. Evans Friday denied a prosecution attempt for an all-or-nothing conviction. The state asked that Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 42, and his 23-year-old sweetheart Carol Tregoff be judged only on first-degree murder charges. The penalty for first-degree murder is the gas chamber or life imprisonment.

But Judge Evans ruled unofficially that the jury also will be able to consider a lesser penalty, second-degree murder—punishable by a prison term of five years to life.

New Prince 'Doing Fine'; Ike May Be God Father

LONDON (AP)—"It's a lovely baby."

That was the smiling verdict gynecologist John H. Peel relayed to Britons hungry for more particulars about Queen Elizabeth II's infant prince.

"The baby is doing fine and so is the Queen," said Peel after a late Friday night checkup at Buckingham Palace. A bunch of red roses from Prince Philip were by the Queen's bedside.

Her 1-day-old son lay in an adjoining room snuggled in a cream cot lined with blue-bowed pink satin under a nylon net.

His 11-year-old brother, Prince Charles and his sister, Princess Anne 9, saw the new prince Friday.

As Britain rejoiced, speculation grew in court circles that President Eisenhower might be one of the baby's godparents, and that David might be one of the new prince's names. It is a name the President shares with many members of the royal family.

Names for the baby—he probably will get four like his brother and sister—are still a closely guarded secret. They will not be announced until just before the christening expected to be performed by the Archbishop of Canterbury in about a month.

Congratulatory messages came in from all parts of the world. Late Friday night the palace post office already had dealt with 2,000 telegrams and cables, including messages from President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Sir Winston Churchill.

Until he is 21, the new prince will have no income of his own.

Then he will get an annual government grant of $28,000. This will be increased to $70,000 a year when he marries.

The newcomer becomes second in line of succession to the throne after Prince Charles. Princess Anne drops back to third place, and his aunt, Princess Margaret steps down a rung to fourth.

Both the State Highway Department and County Engineering Department said roads are in fair shape and should be all cleared by mid-afternoon or evening.

Both departments have been working around the clock since the second heavy snowfall of the season started early Thursday morning.

The state has seven salt spinners and three snow plows at work. It reports that state primary roads are icy in spots but have been salted and are beginning to break up as the sun becomes brighter.

SECONDARY STATE roads are clear and wet, but icy and snow covered in certain areas. They have been salted and plowed back and are expected to be safe by nightfall.

County Engineering Department supervisor, Ed Shellhammer, said county roads are clear and in fair condition. He said snow had drifted back in some spots but two lane traffic is being maintained throughout the county.

This afternoon the county department is planning on clearing some township roads, especially in Washington Twp. The county department has two sand trucks, three salt spinners and eight plows working night and day.

Both departments cautioned motorists to drive slow and with care for underlying icy spots. The thermometer rose to 26 degrees yesterday and dropped to seven this morning to equal the winter season's low, set Sunday.

The snow may not be with us as long as expected if the Weatherman is right. He predicts temperatures up to 35 degrees tomorrow with possible rain mixed with the anticipated snowfall.

Fish Rides Peggyback On Airliner's Wing

LOS ANGELES (AP)—When a Western Air Lines DCyB arrived from Mexico City Friday, a maintenance crew found a five-inch fish, still alive, on the plane's wing.

It was placed in a pail of water. One guess is that a sea gull plucked the fish from the Pacific Ocean and dropped it as the plane descended for a landing.

Boy, 13, Stabs Neighbor Lass With Knife

Wauseon Area Youth Is Captured When He Returns to Scene

WAUSEON, Ohio (AP) — Thirty children watched horrified Friday as a schoolgirl was stabbed to death by a 13-year-old boy on a school bus.

Karen Smith, 12, of Rt. 2, Delta, died instantly of two stab wounds in the back inflicted by a seven-inch long hunting knife, officials said.

Douglas Konrath, a neighbor of the victim, is being held for investigation in the killing, reported Fulton County Sheriff Loren Yoder. A motive has not been learned.

The boy was arrested at gunpoint by a deputy after he returned to the scene of the stabbing. No charges have been filed.

The girl was slain as she rode a Delta school bus en route home from school. The bus had stopped to discharge pupils when the boy reportedly ran from the rear of the bus, stabbed the girl then fled out the door.

Konrath went to his home and drove off in his brother's car down some railroad tracks in a suicide attempt, the boy told Sheriff Yoder. When the small foreign car became stalled on the tracks, he returned to the bus.

Deputy Lester (Jim) Trigg confronted Konrath and told him at gunpoint to drop the knife he was still carrying. The boy did.

George Konrath, the boy's father, is the sixth grade teacher at Delta School where both his son and the victim attended. Karen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, have a farm which adjoins Konrath's.

Sheriff Yoder said Douglas was apprehended last year for firing a shot into the Smith home. Juvenile Court released him then to his parents on the condition he be taken to a doctor. Yoder said he confiscated nine guns from the boy's home at that time.

8 Children Reunited with Their Parents

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The eight Quisenberry children—parceled out to friends, neighbors and strangers when their father and mother split up six months ago—were all back under their own roof with their parents today.

The last of the youngsters, Darrell, 3, went back home with his father and mother under a court order Wednesday that denied a childless couple's bid to adopt the little boy.

Carl D. Quisenberry, 31, quit his job last August, left his wife and children and went to Toledo, Ohio. He said he now has a job as a truck driver and can support his family.

The frantic mother, Opal, penniless and unable to get state welfare aid, gave all the children away and went to Florida when her husband left.

Mrs. Quisenberry, 28, later returned. The husband, learning of his family's plight, also came back and drew 18 months probation on an abandonment charge.

The parents reclaimed all their children but Darrell, who had been placed for adoption with Forrest Johnson, a city traffic court clerk, and his wife.

She Gets Allowances From 3 GI Husbands

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Mary M. Cardwell, 37, was sentenced to three years in prison after pleading guilty to illegally receiving $26,800 in dependency allowances from three servicemen husbands.

Her attorney said she had shared the money with parents and children of the husbands.

"You might be a sort of Robin Hood," Judge Bryan Simpson told Mrs. Cardwell, "but the fact that you were generous with this money doesn't change the fact that you defrauded the government."

"You might be a sort of Robt Hood," Judge Bryan Simpson told Mrs. Cardwell, "but the fact that you were generous with this money doesn't change the fact that you defrauded the government."

Railroad Puts Crash Blame On Engineer

CLEVELAND (AP)—The New York Central Railroad claims the passenger train wreck at Wellington Jan. 10 which four persons were killed would not have happened "if the engineer had controlled his train in accordance with the signal indications."

In placing the blame on Henry W. Kerstein, 64, of Cleveland, the railroad also announced in a report Friday night that the veteran engineer has been fired.

The railroad held a five-day secret hearing here last week at which Kerstein was the principal witness. The NYC summed up its findings by saying:

"... The accident was caused by the engineer's failure to control the speed of the train ..."

A speed of 93 m.p.h. was reached by the Southwestern Limited when 30 m.p.h. was called for because of a danger signal, the NYC said.

The report added that the cars and locomotives of the train were tested after the wreck, in which about 50 persons were injured. Checked carefully was the braking system, the railroad said.

"The speed indicator on the leading diesel unit had failed en route," the report stated, "but other than this all equipment checked out properly."

In case of speedometer failure it is necessary for the engineer and fireman (who was killed in the wreck) to follow prescribed rules for determining the speed by use of their watches, the mile post markers and speed tables, the railroad claimed.

Kerstein was not available for comment on the report.

Shortly after the wreck, from his hospital bed, he told Lorain County sheriff's investigators that the brakes had failed.

New Winter Storm Pounds Northeast U.S.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Wind-driven snow choked off a vast section of western New York today as winter storms battered the Northeast for the second time this week.

Sixteen deaths were reported in five states.

Sections of Pennsylvania and northern New England also bore the brunt of the storm that began Thursday.

Although the snowfall let up, winds that reached 50 miles an hour churned the snow into drifts up to 10 feet Friday night.

The blow felled power and telephone lines and crippled small vessels off the New England coast.

Heavy, wet snow collapsed the roof of a bowling alley near Buffalo, trapping Mrs. Robert Hammer, 38, under a fallen beam. She was taken to a hospital for treatment of leg injuries.

Snowplow crews were unable to cope with the drifts along sections of the New York Thruway and the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

The Thruway closed a 130-mile section—from Syracuse west to Williamsville. A 175-mile stretch of the Pennsylvania Turnpike—from near Pittsburgh east to Carlisle—also became impassable.

Thousands of travelers of the superhighways took refuge in restaurants.

Nearly all highways in a six-county western New York area around Rochester were clogged.

Twenty inches of snow, the season's heaviest fall, blanketed Berlin, N.H. Southern and eastern Vermont were hit with up to a foot.

Discoverer OKd Despite Failure

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Despite another failure, the Air Force will resume its Discoverer satellite series—aimed at teaching man how to enter and return from space.

A 78-foot Discoverer X missile veered off course Friday after launching and headed for nearby seacoast cities. The Air Force destroyed the towering Thor-Agena missile at 20,000 feet, 56 seconds after launching.

A terrific blast rocked this missile base, then a big orange fireball swelled in the sky. A mushroom of black smoke billowed out the fiery sphere as the sky rained missile fragments the size of automobiles.

School Dental Program Urged

This is the last in a series of six articles prepared by the Pickaway County Dental Society. They are prepared to foster interest in better dental health. The articles evolved from study sessions, oral surgery and other child health problems.

A dental health education program in the elementary school may go a long way toward building lifelong habits of good health for teeth and mouth.

In the school program, teachers and pupils together may develop educational activities based on the dental experiences of the children — eruption and shedding of teeth and dental visits.

Learning activities may well be directed toward such dental health practices as brushing teeth immediately after eating, limiting the amount of sweets eaten, having routine examination by the family dentist and obtaining topical applications of fluoride for partial prevention of tooth decay if the pupils have not been drinking fluoridated water since birth.

Some children may be under dental supervision and school health programs and should be encouraged to continue. However, surveys indicate that many children, particularly those in the first and second grades, do not establish the practice of visiting the dentist on a routine basis.

WHEN THE SCHOOL dental health program includes a dental inspection of all children, this part of the program will be effective only if parents cooperate by having a complete dental examination for the child by the family dentist and whatever treatment is found necessary.

Parents must cooperate with teachers not only for dental health but for the total health of the child.

The teenage years are a critical time for dental health. All the permanent teeth except the third molars or wisdom teeth are usually in position by the time a boy or girl reaches the thirteenth year.

Many of these permanent teeth, dental surveys reveal, decay from the thirteenth to the fifteenth year. Consequently, regular examination and treatment to help prevent and control dental disease are urgently needed during the adolescent years.

Suggested dental health practices for junior and senior high school pupils are as follows:

1. Consumption of sweet foods should be kept at a minimum.
2. Unless the pupil has been drinking fluoridated water since birth, he should have four fluoride applications to his teeth during the thirteenth year. He should have had these applications also at the ages of 3, 7, and 10-years or at the times recommended by the family dentist.

3. PUPILS SHOULD visit the dentist as often as he recommends. The dentist will wish to study the student's medical and dental records for thorough treatment planning.

4. Routine dental examinations should include X-rays of the teeth.

5. A dental cleaning should be given regularly.

6. Tooth decay should be treated before it becomes extensive. 7. An infected tooth should be removed if the infection cannot be eliminated by treatment.

8. If the teeth have assumed abnormal positions that interfere with function and mar appearance, an orthodontist should be consulted. He is a dental specialist in the field of prevention and correction of irregularities in tooth position and jaw relationship and deformities of the face produced by these conditions.

9. When a permanent tooth has been removed, leaving a space between the adjoining teeth, a replacement should be provided as soon as feasible.

10. Teeth should be brushed immediately after eating for partial control of tooth decay. If brushing is not possible, the mouth should be rinsed with water.

THE FOLLOWING observations of tooth eruption in children can usually be made:

Two and one-half to 5 years of age the child should have 20 teeth.

Six to 7 years of age the child should have 20 baby teeth and four permanent teeth, the first permanent molars. The latter do not replace baby teeth.

Seven to 9 years of age the child should lose the upper and lower front baby teeth, the central and lateral incisors, and should have the corresponding permanent teeth, four upper and four lower.

This is in addition to the first permanent molars, which erupted during the sixth year. Eight baby molars should be present throughout this period.

Ten to 12 years of age the child should lose a first and second baby molars and shortly thereafter the first and second bicusps should erupt.

Four second permanent molars should erupt during the twelfth year. The four baby cusps should be lost and replaced by the four permanent cusps.

The first church, university and hospital in the Western Hemisphere were located in Mexico City.

Dem Chairman Decries Rift In Ohio Party

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democratic State Chairman William L. Coleman says the party must rid itself of a "cancerous growth" in Cuyahoga County.

Coleman made the statement Friday in noting that Ray T. Miller, veteran Cuyahoga County Democratic chairman, has resorted to "name calling" in his feud with Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

DiSalle and Miller split after Miller entered a partial slate of Democratic national convention delegates against DiSalle's full slate in the May 3 primary election.

In a prepared statement, Coleman said there could be no compromise in the break between DiSalle and Miller.

"It is unfortunate that the Democratic party in Ohio finds itself in conflict with one of its 88 county chairmen," Coleman said in the statement. It continued in part: "It is only when no compromise can be effected that the fight becomes intolerable."

"The governor, as titular head of the party, has decided to set up his own organization in Cuyahoga County which will bypass the Miller group."

"State party leadership has suffered indignities, provocation and considerable loss of cooperation by Mr. Miller over a long period of time."

"Therefore I feel that the state Democratic organization must rid itself of this cancerous growth before it can weaken our party."

Does the goal you're seeking seem as remote—as unattainable—as this snow-frosted mountain top? Does it seem, sometimes, as if you'll never get there? Are you on the verge of giving up?

Don't! Though your objective may seem light-years beyond your reach, if it's the right thing for you, God will help you to attain it, if you'll let Him. The teachings of His Church will help you find the patience and endurance you need to accept setbacks . . . and still keep trying.

Don't try to climb to the top all by yourself. It's a lonely ascent. Let the Church help you, as it helped those who were here before you. . . and as it will help those who come after you.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Does the goal you're seeking seem as remote—as unattainable—as this snow-frosted mountain top? Does it seem, sometimes, as if you'll never get there? Are you on the verge of giving up?

Don't! Though your objective may seem light-years beyond your reach, if it's the right thing for you, God will help you to attain it, if you'll let Him. The teachings of His Church will help you find the patience and endurance you need to accept setbacks . . . and still keep trying.

Don't try to climb to the top all by yourself. It's a lonely ascent. Let the Church help you, as it helped those who were here before you. . . and as it will help those who come after you.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Make Church - Going a Habit

School Boredom Challenged

Several educators have lamented the growing dependence by college students upon the material rewards of an education degree, and the almost total void of educational pursuit for the sake of knowledge by many of today's students. One can almost sense the dollar signs grinding in the mind of a high school student contemplating his future course of action. Instead of choice of vocation suitable to a person's likes and personality, the primary consideration frequently seems to be, "What's the salary?"

Two reasons are usually advanced to explain the phenomenon: the lack of experience in life of the present generation in comparison with previous ones, and inability of many colleges to provide more than the mechanics of earning a livelihood.

Few of today's students in institutions of higher learning know anything of the privation, hardship or the other uncomfortable components of the life shared by many of their parents. As Prof. Paul C. Wermuth, English instructor at an eastern state teachers' college, writes in a recent bulletin of the Association of American Colleges, modern students "have never suffered or worked hard or been caught in the economic trap; never felt loneliness, fear, dread, loss, grief, pity, pain — and have not even shared these things vicariously through serious reading."

While they are to be envied, their comfortably protected station in life, the lack of experience in practicalities has distorted the goals once held dear by upcoming generations. The desire to grasp at something better which is born of despair and the experience of hardship is lacking in today's classroom. Higher education has been relegated to the status of apprenticeship. It is a necessary step one must take before entering the professional world.

Not all students or colleges are accepting this concept. Perhaps unwittingly, and without realizing the reason for their revolt, some students have begun to ask for greater challenge. Mental stimulation and the quest for an opportunity to exercise the fledgling abilities for independent thought have produced some markedly radical campus ventures, but at least they combined to produce a limitless challenge.

Several forums to provide student participation in world problems exist among the colleges. One of these is a program called "The Challenge" begun by Yale undergraduates as a means of actively participating in debates on world questions above the heads of most adults. It provides a podium for noted experts as well as debates by its campus members and has begun publishing a weekly newspaper.

Such activities may provide the inducement needed to dispel educational boredom.

Summit Prospect Not Bright

Secretary of State Herter has warned the West against entertaining much hope for the Big Four summit talks in May, and Premier Khrushchev's recent statements also provided an antidote for excessive optimism.

Khrushchev has boasted of Soviet prowess with missiles. The Japanese are told they can be blown out of the Pacific. Italy is advised to ponder the implications of Russia being the first to reach the moon.

This is Russia's way of relating diplomacy to military power. When Khrushchev insists anew that the West accept Soviet terms on West Berlin, he lets the world know that Russia has the weapons to back the demand.

The "consequences" of a Western refusal, as the world has heard before, would be a separate Soviet-bloc peace treaty with Communist East Germany. This, in turn, could mean the beginning of the end for the occupation rights which the West has refused to relinquish in West Berlin.

The Soviet psychology of bluster and threat can cut two ways. The more Khrushchev boasts of Soviet military might, for example, the more the West will be prodded to look to its own.

Finally, the West is not likely to be taken in by another "Spirit of Geneva" such as attended the Big Four summit of 1955. Khrushchev himself has seen to that by scuttling the "Spirit of Camp David."

Movie Atmosphere Changes

In 1947, the major studios of the motion picture industry met at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York to discuss the box office resistance of the American people to pictures manufactured by personnel who were known to be Communists, pro-Communists or fellow-travelers. Out of that meeting came "The Waldorf Declaration of 1947."

Subsequent to this, various efforts were made by individuals, groups and even management to evade the rigidities of this declaration. Various blacklists were devised, some of them correct, others outrageously incorrect. The most blacklisted of all writers and artists were the conservatives who were kept out of studios for years because of their patriotism. In due course, a voluntary committee of four men joined with management in the major studios and set two specific goals:

1. Those who were not Communists, those who were unjustly accused, were given an opportunity and a technique for clearing themselves of the charges made against them;
2. Those who could be established to be Communist were given an opportunity to expose themselves.

Of the first category, my estimate is that more than 300, among them many principal personalities in motion pictures, went back to work. However, while this was happening, the United States Supreme Court ordered the large studios to disavow the ownership of theaters from the ownership of studios, block-booking was prohibited, television became popular and the motion picture business became disturbed.

Clever men, mostly from outside this industry, discovered a method for licking some of the problems which the major studios faced: They imported cheaply produced pictures from abroad, particularly from Italy. It was not long before all motion picture companies were making pictures abroad, utilizing lower wage employees, dealing with Communist unions to which they paid check-off dues even for American players and bringing into this country some astonishingly indecent films.

The public response was mixed. The larger, well-established studios obtained funds by selling surplus real estate and old films to television. A large number of irresponsible and even amoral independent companies went into the business. Then came the great spectacles of Cecil B. de Mille and Mike Todd and pictures were again making real money.

Two important efforts have been made in recent years, principally by independents, but soon followed by the older studios:

1. To smash the various codes of decency;
2. To restore the right of Communist to work.

Otto Preminger produced two pictures which practically smashed the established codes of decency — "The Moon Is Blue" and "The Man With the Golden Arm." The exhibition of these films was widely fought but the battle was lost. Since then a large number of questionable pictures were exhibited which in earlier years would not have been shown. Also motion picture advertising has deteriorated.

Now Otto Preminger and Kirk Douglas have given employment to Dalton Trumbo who has thus far not chosen to make any effort toward clearing his name of the Communist taint. Nedrick Young has been employed by Stanley Kramer. Martin B. McNeally, the National Commander of the American Legion, responded to this repudiation of The Waldorf Declaration by the following:

"I stated that the American Legion will marshal all necessary resources to alert its membership, the general public, loyal Americans in and out of the film industry and motion picture exhibitors, to the official records of the people involved, and to the implications to both the U.S. film industry and to our country of this situation."

"We cannot see on what basis Mr. Kramer finds it 'reprehensible' for us to tell the people what appears in Congressional documents concerning Nedrick Young, whom Mr. Kramer has hired and whose product he will offer to the public. In 1953 Mr. Young was asked by a Congressional Committee if he were a member of the Communist Party. He answered by assailing the committee and refusing to answer the question. The American Legion will publish the testimony. The public will have the information through the Legion if through no other medium of public information."

The American Legion and other patriotic organizations desire to know whether the motion picture industry repudiates The Waldorf Declaration of 1947 and if not, what they intend to do about those whose actions indicate repudiation. Some of the motion picture people feel that the atmosphere has changed and that Communists should be permitted to find work in the motion picture industry.

A traveler returned from England solemnly reports that he was spending a night in a dank, enormous old castle when he suddenly felt a clammy hand on his shoulder. It was a ghost, all right. "I have been pacing these corridors," the ghost announced, "every night for seven long centuries."

"Wonderful," said the traveler. "You're just the ghost I want. Which way is the bathroom?"

THEY NEVER CHANGE

New Drugs Deter Cancer

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

For at least three years now, some surgeons have been using a solution to keep cancer cells from spreading during operations to remove certain types of malignancies.

They appear highly satisfied with the results.

Individual cancer cells often are capable of "reseeding" themselves during operations. If fact, cancer cell seedings are believed to occur in a substantial number of cases of places the number at 27 per cent. While the primary tumor is removed, these seedings sometimes redevelop cancer in the original site or they may be carried through the blood stream or other parts of the body.

This has been a big problem in cancer surgery for years.

The first known study of a drug, Cloropactin XCB, used to kill these seedings, was reported in 1957 by surgeons at the U. S. Naval Hospital in St. Albans, New York. Other studies have been reported since then.

The latest was conducted by Harry E. Bacon, professor and head of the department of rectal surgery at Temple University.

The drug was used during the operating procedure on 106 patients with proved cancer of the rectum and/or colon. Only two of these persons developed local recurrence of cancer.

A control group of 106 patients also was studied. The drug was not used in their operations.

Nine of these control patients suffered recurrent cancer; in four of them the recurrence was local. Eight of the nine patients died.

The solution is used to wash out the area being operated on in order to destroy any cancer cells not eliminated by the surgery.

By washing the surgery wound in this manner, doctors report there is not toxic effect, damage to the tissue or any delaying effect upon the rate of healing.

Dr. Bacon says the solution kills the cancer cells in three to five minutes.

From these studies it would seem that it might be good practice to use such a solution in all cases of cancer surgery where there is danger of leaking cancer cells.

Armory Deal In Lancaster To Be Unique

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If the proposed new armory at Lancaster is shared by the Ohio National Guard and the Army Reserve it will be the first military building put to such joint use in Ohio, the Adjutant General's Department said today.

The Ohio National Guard is opposed to sharing armories with the Reserve because it contends state-controlled guard units remain in the community, while federally-controlled reserve outfits frequently are relocated. Too, the guard says training schedules may conflict.

In the case of the Lancaster armory, the state cannot decide to pay the entire cost itself, for guard use only, because the money would come from sale of an existing armory there and not from the Legislature.

The Lancaster matter now is in the hands of the National Guard Bureau in Washington, and the Ohio Department said it has heard nothing since last month.

Warden Recalls Chessman Reaction to Reprieve News

EDITOR'S NOTE: Warden Fred Dickson of San Quentin Prison was the first person to inform Caryl Chessman of Gov. Edmund G. Brown's stay of execution. The following is his story as told to Associated Press staffer Harold V. Streeter.

By WARDEN FRED DICKSON
San Quentin Prison

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — I happened to be down in the holding cell or death cell, as you might call it, visiting with the condemned man when the governor called.

That was right around midnight, and I had been there since a quarter to nine.

The phone rang. It's just outside the gas chamber. I was advised that the governor's secretary, Cecil Poole, was on the line. He was at the governor's mansion in Sacramento. He said the governor wanted to talk to me.

Then the governor got on the line, and first he asked if he had awakened me. I told him no, that I was down at the cell of the condemned man.

He stated, "You can send him back upstairs. I am going to grant him a 60-day reprieve."

That was about the extent of what he said. Then I walked over and told Chessman the governor had granted him a 60-day reprieve.

He looked at me and said, "Warden, you wouldn't kid me, would you?"

"No, I wouldn't kid you about anything like that," I said.

Chessman said, "I know it." Then he said "Just a second, let me get myself together because actually I had resigned myself that this is it."

He said, "When you have the opportunity, tell the governor I am very grateful."

Then I called the lieutenant and he had Chessman taken back upstairs.

That's about the end of it. He wasn't particularly emotionally upset, but of course he was shaky as any man would be under those conditions.

Now Otto Preminger and Kirk Douglas have given employment to Dalton Trumbo who has thus far not chosen to make any effort toward clearing his name of the Communist taint. Nedrick Young has been employed by Stanley Kramer. Martin B. Kneally, the National Commander of the American Legion, responded to this repudiation of The Waldorf Declaration by the following:

"I stated that the American Legion will marshal all necessary resources to alert its membership, the general public, loyal Americans in and out of the film industry and motion picture exhibitors, to the official records of the people involved, and to the implications to both the U.S. film industry and to our country of this situation."

"We cannot see on what basis Mr. Kramer finds it 'reprehensible' for us to tell the people what appears in Congressional documents concerning Nedrick Young, whom Mr. Kramer has hired and whose product he will offer to the public. In 1953 Mr. Young was asked by a Congressional Committee if he were a member of the Communist Party. He answered by assailing the committee and refusing to answer the question. The American Legion will publish the testimony. The public will have the information through the Legion if through no other medium of public information."

The American Legion and other patriotic organizations desire to know whether the motion picture industry repudiates The Waldorf Declaration of 1947 and if not, what they intend to do about those whose actions indicate repudiation. Some of the motion picture people feel that the atmosphere has changed and that Communists should be permitted to find work in the motion picture industry.

WHEN AND IF you encounter a ghost, the only thing to fear, it seems, is fear itself. A traveler returned from England solemnly reports that he was spending a night in a dank, enormous old castle when he suddenly felt a clammy hand on his shoulder. It was a ghost, all right. "I have been pacing these corridors," the ghost announced, "every night for seven long centuries."

"Wonderful," said the traveler. "You're just the ghost I want. Which way is the bathroom?"

New Drugs Deter Cancer

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.
For at least three years now, some surgeons have been using a solution to keep cancer cells from spreading during operations to remove certain types of malignancies.

They appear highly satisfied with the results.

Individual cancer cells often are capable of "reseeding" themselves during operations. If fact, cancer cell seedlings are believed to occur in a substantial number of cases of places the number at 27 per cent. While the primary tumor is removed, these seedlings sometimes redevelop cancer in the original site or they may be carried through the blood stream or other parts of the body.

This has been a big problem in cancer surgery for years.

The first known study of a drug, Cloropactin XCB, used to kill these seedlings, was reported in 1957 by surgeons at the U. S. Naval Hospital in St. Albans, New York. Other studies have been reported since then.

The latest was conducted by Harry E. Bacon, professor and head of the department of rectal surgery at Temple University.

The drug was used during the operating procedure on 106 patients with proved cancer of the rectum and/or colon. Only two of these persons developed local recurrence of cancer.

A control group of 106 patients also was studied. The drug was not used in their operations.

Nine of these control patients suffered recurrent cancer; in four of them the recurrence was local. Eight of the nine patients died.

The solution is used to wash out the area being operated on in order to destroy any cancer cells not eliminated by the surgery.

By washing the surgery wound in this manner, doctors report there is no toxic effect, damage to the tissue or any delaying effect upon the rate of healing.

Dr. Bacon says the solution kills the cancer cells in three to five minutes.

From these studies it would seem that it might be good practice to use such a solution in all cases of cancer surgery where there is danger of leaking cancer cells.

MOST POWERFUL ROCKET ENGINE—This photo from Washington shows a full-scale mock-up of the F-1, America's most powerful rocket engine. It will be ready for action in about four years, when North American Aviation's Rocketdyne division gets through with it. The engine, the F-1, is designed to produce 1,500,000 pounds of thrust. Clustered on a space vehicle, up to 9,000,000 pounds of thrust can be attained. This would put 150,000 pounds of payload into orbit around the earth, or somewhere out there.

Armory Deal In Lancaster To Be Unique

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If the proposed new armory at Lancaster is shared by the Ohio National Guard and the Army Reserve it will be the first military building put to such joint use in Ohio, the Adjutant General's Department said today.

The Ohio National Guard is opposed to sharing armories with the Reserve because it contends state-controlled guard units remain in the community, while federally-controlled reserve outfits frequently are relocated. Too, the guard says training schedules may conflict.

In the case of the Lancaster armory, the state cannot decide to pay the entire cost itself, for guard use only, because the money would come from sale of an existing armory there and not from the Legislature.

The Lancaster matter now is in the hands of the National Guard Bureau in Washington, and the Ohio Department said it has heard nothing since last month.

Warden Recalls Chessman Reaction to Reprieve News

EDITOR'S NOTE: Warden Fred Dickson of San Quentin Prison was the first person to inform Caryl Chessman of Gov. Edmund G. Brown's stay of execution. The following is his story as told to Associated Press staffer Harold V. Streeter.

By WARDEN FRED DICKSON
San Quentin Prison

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — I happened to be down in the holding cell or death cell, as you might call it, visiting with the condemned man when the governor called.

That was right around midnight, and I had been there since a quarter to nine.

The phone rang. It's just outside the gas chamber. I was advised that the governor's secretary, Cecil Poole, was on the line. He was at the governor's mansion in Sacramento. He said the governor wanted to talk to me.

Then the governor got on the line, and first he asked if he had awakened me. I told him no, that I was down at the cell of the condemned man.

He stated, "You can send him back upstairs. I am going to grant him a 60-day reprieve."

That was about the extent of what he said. Then I walked over and told Chessman the governor had granted him a 60-day reprieve.

He looked at me and said, "Warden, you wouldn't kid me, would you?"

"No, I wouldn't kid you about anything like that," I said.

Chessman said, "I know it." Then he said "Just a second, let me get myself together because actually I had resigned myself that this is it."

He said, "When you have the opportunity, tell the governor I am very grateful."

Then I called the lieutenant and he had Chessman taken back upstairs.

That's about the end of it. He wasn't particularly emotionally upset, but of course he was shaky as any man would be under those conditions.

Kentuckians Now in Ohio Counted Out of War Bonus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Many thousands of Kentuckians living in Ohio have apparently been counted out of their World War II veterans bonus from the Blue Grass State.

This represents a loss estimated as high as 15 million dollars to these former Kentuckians in Ohio. The average bonus payment would be $250, based on Ohio experience.

Some Kentucky-born World War II vets, now living outside boundaries of the Blue Grass State, are forming a "Kentucky Orphans Brigade" to protest being "disowned by the state from where they went out to battlefields of the world," according to George T. Wilson of Paris, Tenn., a protest leader.

The Kentucky bonus bill, passed Tuesday by the Kentucky Senate and now awaiting gubernatorial approval, provides that Kentucky veterans who moved out of state after military service are ineligible for the bonus. Kentucky voters in a Nov. 3, 1959, referendum, approved the bonus.

The bill will pay $9 for each month of domestic service and $15 for each month of overseas service, with a $300 maximum on home service and $500 maximum on foreign service.

A 3 per cent state sales tax has been levied to pay the bonus and for other state expenses.

The bill covers veterans of the Wars I and II and Korea.

Lt. Col. William B. Haines, head of the soldiers claims and records section of the Ohio adjutant general's office, estimates there may be an additional forty thousand ex-Kentuckians in Ohio who are veterans of World War I, Korea and the Spanish-American War, representing another 10 million dollars in bonus money.

The bill provides the veteran must have entered military service from Kentucky, and must have been a resident of Kentucky when the plan was approved in the referendum.

A group from the Columbus area recently approached Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle for help, but he said he is unable to do anything since it is strictly a Kentucky internal matter.

A group of ex-Kentucky veterans from Hamilton, Ohio, conferred with Gov. Bert T. Combs at Frankfort, Ky., recently, and the Kentucky executive said his state could not afford to pay all Kentucky vets now living in other states.

But the Kentucky governor said that residence requirements would be liberally interpreted, and that the bonus would be paid to Kentuckians temporarily out of the state, the spokesman said.

Kentuckians who have moved their families out of Kentucky would not receive the bonus.

In 1950, there were 301,500 Kentucky-born persons in Ohio, and Ohio statisticians estimate there are now about 400,000 native Kentuckians living in Ohio.

Haines said: "It is a well-known fact that the great population migration from Kentucky to Ohio (and also from West Virginia to Ohio) has been since the end of World War II, and it is my estimate that of the 400, 000 Kentucky-born residents in Ohio today approximately 60,000 are veterans of World War II who went to war from Kentucky." Ohio World War II veterans got their bonus regardless of their residence after the bonus was made available, providing they met all the other qualifications.

DiSalle Presses for New Liquor Enforcement Unit

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael DiSalle pressed Friday for early formation of an FBI-type liquor enforcement unit and again threatened to withhold funds from subdivisions failing to cooperate with state agents.

He also called for speed in acquiring abandoned strip mine land for state honor camps and received a report that truck axle tax money would be available this year for highway construction.

Liquor Director Richard C. Crouch reported at the governor's weekly cabinet meeting that a highly-trained enforcement unit could be created under present statutes.

"I feel that we should move on this as quickly as possible," DiSalle said. He previously urged a 50-man FBI-type unit to replace about 80 present agents for better enforcement of liquor regulations.

The governor reported receipt of a number of anonymous letters about liquor agent activities.

"The things they tell on each other makes you wonder how we have gotten along," DiSalle observed.

House Panel Shuns 9,500 New U.S. Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee has refused to finance 9,500 of the 25,000 new jobs planned for next year for the Treasury and Post Office Departments.

In a bill appropriating $4,795,414,000 in new funds for the two departments for the fiscal year starting July 1, the committee approved financing for about 16,000 new jobs, more than, 12,000 of them in the Post Office Department.

Refusal to go all the way on administration job-boosting plans followed a pattern cut by the committee on previous bills financing the Commerce and Interior Departments.

It accounted for a large part of the $102,439,000 cut from new money requests made by the President.

The total in the bill included $3,971,000,000 for the Post Office Department, $822,849,000 for the Treasury Department, and $1,565,000 for the Tax Court. Reductions were 82 million dollars for the postal service, $20,421,000 for the Treasury Department, and $18,000 for the Tax Court.

well," Crouch cracked.

The governor said state agents have been getting better cooperation from local authorities on enforcement but the reiterated an earlier threat to withhold funds from subdivisions which wink at violations.

The state returns to local governments for general operations the liquor permit fees collected in their areas.

Natural Resources Director Herbert B. Eagon said red tape over mineral rights to strip mine lands sought by the state was holding up acquisition. The last Legislature appropriated $50,000 to buy unwanted lands for honor camps.

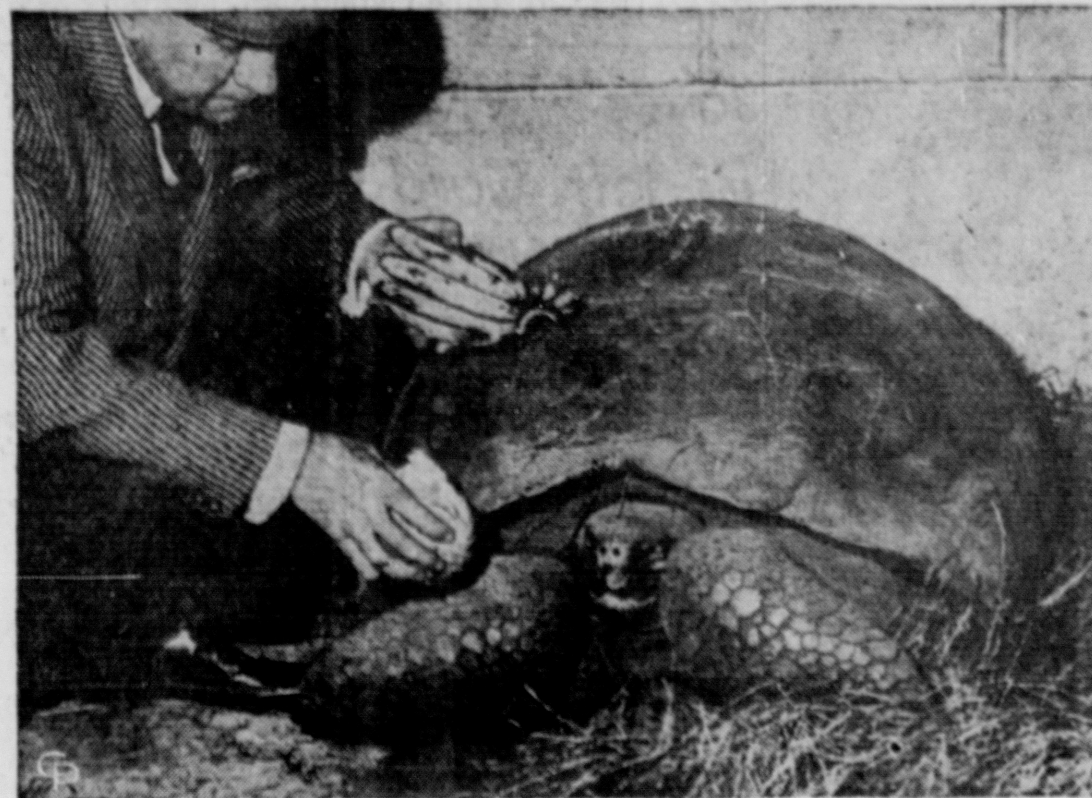

DiSalle urged court action if negotiations could not be worked out with owners. He said progress should be made before the next session of the Legislature. Eagon reported that studies showed real estate tax delinquencies were less than previously reported on such lands.

Tax Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers said axle tax revenues from big trucks approximated 13 1/2 million dollars a year but were below estimates. He said delinquencies had been chipped from about 16 million dollars to around three millions but reported collections were complicated.

Highway Director Everett S. Preston said truck operations were picking up but that considerable axle tax revenue had been lost to the state from trucks using the turnpike and railroad piggy-back service.

Preston said he was pleased to learn from Finance Director James H. Maloon that some axle tax money would be available for road construction instead of bond retirement during 1960 because gasoline tax revenues were exceeding estimates.

The governor urged Preston to press for congressional action on a proposal to allow states with turnpikes larger allowances on allocations for highway purposes to compensate for loss of some revenues.

CHS Seniors Prepare for 'Diary' Play

The Circleville High School senior class play entitled, "The Diary of Anne Frank", is progressing, according to play officials today.

The play will be presented March 24 and 25 in the school auditorium. During the annual prize-giving in 1956, the "Diary" took all honors. It received the Critics Circle Award, the Antoinette Perry Award and Pulitzer Prize.

The prizes and public veneration for the play were a tribute to the spirit of an adolescent girl. Everything that one says about the play, one says about Anne Frank.

Anne was the youngest of a group of eight Jews who for two years and one month hid in a cramped attic over a warehouse to escape the Gestapo.

ANNE GAILY continued to keep her diary she had begun on her thirteenth birthday during her stay in the attic.

Thanks to the diary we know the homely details of this almost incredible example of the will to survive and of the selflessness of a few friends on the outside.

For more than two years, eight human beings never went outdoors, kept silent for about ten hours every day when strangers were working downstairs, never stood by a window, never discarded rubbish that might betray them, never drank water during the day, never did anything that might indicate that the attic was anything except an abandoned storehouse.

If eight people of different ages and from different families had succeeded in maintaining such a secret for a week, it would now seem remarkable.

But to keep the secret for two years would seem fantastic if the diary did not exist. The diary fundamentally is a portrait of the problems, privations and strains upon eight people living in constant fear of discovery and almost sure death.

The CHS seniors are working hard to bring the true spirit of Anne Frank here during their two-day performance.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official U.S. Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Skies cleared over most of the state Friday night and temperatures dropped to as low as 3 at Chesapeake and 12 at Columbus and Zanesville.

Cloudiness and snow flurries persisted near Lake Erie where temperatures were near 20.

High pressure will dominate the state's weather today but a new storm over the Texas Panhandle is moving towards Ohio. Heavy snow warnings have been issued in the Central Plains states and the cloudiness will increase over Ohio tonight as the storm approaches.

Snow is expected over the state Sunday, possibly mixed with rain in the southern portion. Temperatures will rise slightly tonight and Sunday.

Mrs. A. D. Ellis and Mrs. W. R. Sunderland attended the meeting of the Century Club in Chillicothe, Monday afternoon.

The Rev. and Mrs. Howard Montgomery, (Marietta Mauger) of Hudson, Mich., and Mrs. Roy Brown (Martha Mauger) of Gallatin, Tenn., who were called here by the death of their father, Mr. Joseph Mauger, returned to their homes on Friday.

The engagement of Miss Betsy Ross to Mr. William Beavers is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ross. Miss Ross is a senior at Kingston High School.

Mr. Beavers, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Beavers, was graduated from K. H. S. in 1957 and is employed in the research department of the Mead Corporation.

The date for the wedding has been set for June 12.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl V. Hohenstein and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Ellis were among the number present at the Lincoln Dinner in Chillicothe, Wednesday evening.

TWO NEW MEMBERS. Mrs. Charles Search and Mrs. Charles Maxwell were added to the membership roll of the Ladies Auxiliary of the American Legion at the meeting on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Francis Kelley, the president, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Russell Harper, secretary read the minutes of the last meeting and Mrs. O. H. Targee gave the Treasurer's report. It was voted to give $25 to the community Scholarship Fund and $5 to the March of Dimes.

Plans were made for a jitney supper to be held at the Legion Home, February 23. Poppies were ordered for the Annual Poppy Sale, and the Midwinter Conference, to be held in Columbus on February 27, was announced.

Robert Brundige, Forest Kreisell both of Kingston, and Louis Holderman of Circleville left Wednesday morning for a short vacation in Florida.

Miss Mary L. Harpster, county president of the WCTU, attended a Frances Willard Tea, given by the Five Points WCTU at the Monroe Twp. School, Friday afternoon. Others present, from the local organization,

DiSalle Shuns Hand In Committee Poll

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says he has no plans brewing for the selection of Ohio members of the Democratic National Committee.

The governor replied Thursday to reports that former U.S. Sen. Thomas J. Burke of Cleveland was under consideration. Burke is a candidate for 23rd District delegate in Cuyahoga County on DiSalle's May 3 primary convention delegate slate.

The reports were attributed to Ray T. Miller Sr., Cuyahoga County Democratic chairman, who has a convention delegate slate opposing the governor.

'Mrs. Ohio' to Relinquish Crown in May

FAMILY ACTIVITY places high in the minds of the current "Mrs. Ohio", Mrs. Eileen Herdina and her husband, Joseph. Here they enjoy a quiet evening at home watching television with their five youngsters, from left: Beth, 8; Joseph, Jr., 9; John, 6; Steve, 3; and Mark, 1.

An outstanding Akron housewife will soon relinquish part of her dual role as mother and celebrity. Mrs. Eileen Herdina, crowned "Mrs. Ohio" last May, will yield her title as the state's top homemaker to a new queen early in May.

The attractive 33-year-old mother of five today urged Ohio homemakers to enter the 22nd annual "Mrs. America" contest, which will get under way soon. Applications are now being accepted locally by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co.

The contest is open to all married women over 21, and will be conducted at local, division, district, and state levels in Ohio. Successor to Mrs. Herdina as "Mrs. Ohio" will be selected at the state finals in Columbus, May 4 and 5, and will represent Ohio at the national "Mrs. America" finals in June.

In her role as a celebrity, Mrs. Herdina has presided at style shows, handed out roses at a county fair, opened new housing developments, and has been the guest of honor at numerous festivals throughout the state.

Despite the demands that go along with being a celebrity, Mrs. Herdina said the "Mrs. America" contest hasn't kept her from her other activities. "Other than when I went to Florida for the final competition, the family routine wasn't really disrupted," she said. Mrs. Herdina is sold on the contest.

"I think the 'Mrs. America' contest raises the level of American housewives in the public eye," she said. "I would encourage every homemaker to enter it, not only for the sake of winning, but because it is interesting. I'm very happy that I entered, and I've enjoyed all my experiences connected with it."

Mrs. Herdina's husband, Joseph, a sheet metal company executive, accepted his wife's success in the contest calmly. "The only thing he didn't like was that the phone rang too much," she said. "The day I won the state title, at least 50 people called to congratulate me."

The contest began for Mrs. Herdina when a committee of the Jaycee Wives asked her to represent the organization in the "Mrs. America" competition.

"Since I didn't think anything would come of it, I sent in the application," she said. This was the first contest the blue-eyed brunette had ever entered.

Her first victory was in the Akron cook-off. She and the two other contestants had to glaze a ham, cook a dish and set a table for two while judges compared their performances.

The next step was the state contest, held in Columbus. The 16 finalists had to prepare a glazed ham and a dish in addition to yeast bread and an ice dish. On going selected as the new "Mrs. Ohio", Mrs. Herdina won a new gas range, a combination washer-gas-dryer, and a host of other prizes.

The national contest was held at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where she met celebrities like Bill Lundigan, Hugh Downs and Fran Allison and the 49 other contestants. Mrs. Herdina participated in 15 home-making events, and placed first in the tinting and dyeing category. Mrs. Herdina was accompanied by her husband on the two-week-long trip.

The five-foot-six-inch Mrs. Ohio recalls the national contest as "a wonderful experience". Since then, she has corresponded with contestants from Michigan, Connecticut,

There's Charm In Christianity

By JULES LOH
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — "I feel so wicked," said the preacher's wife, daubing a touch of eye shadow to a once lusterless lid.

The daring lady is one of a group of ministers' wives who are experiencing what they feel is the greatest burst of female liberty since suffrage.

Five nights a week they gather at the home of Mrs. John H. Boyle and amid giggles of deviltry, take sheer delight in learning the secrets of charm.

"The Christian woman can look just as charming on the outside as her character is on the inside," declares Mrs. Boyle.

Her theory took root five years ago when Mrs. Boyle bristled at a remark by a professor at Southern Baptist Seminary who was aware of the attractive minister's wife was a former model.

"Why don't you give some of that stuff to preachers' wives?" the professor needed. "Most of them walk as if they're following a plow."

That was all Mrs. Boyle needed. Many of her students are chagrined at first when Mrs. Boyle expounds some of her "revolutionary" teachings.

For example, "It's perfectly ladylike to cross your legs. It's how you do it that is the problem." Lower the underneath knee as you cross, she explains, and remember the leg closest to your audience goes over the other one.

But Mrs. Boyle, drawing from the Bible, urges moderation in all things.

Use perfume, she says, but cautions, "Don't be one of those women you can smell all the way down the aisle. Be charming, but not overwhelming. You don't want waves of nausea following you."

Mrs. Boyle's success proves preachers' wives are not much different in their attitudes as women in many another walk of life. Nor, unfortunately, are their husbands.

Reported one charm student who went home decked out in a new hairdo and fancy hat:

"He never noticed a thing. I was crushed."

Dear Abby...

By Abigail Van Buren

Is Law Fact or Fantasy?

DEAR ABBY: In Massachusetts ten kisses ARE equal to proposal of marriage. If you think that's funny, did you know that it's against the law to blow your nose in public in Waterville, Maine? Check your facts.

LAW STUDENT

DEAR STUDENT: Check yours. Many years ago there was an ordinance in Waterville, Maine, which prohibited blowing one's nose in public. But no more. It has been removed from the books. If there IS a law in Massachusetts stating that ten kisses are equal to a marriage proposal, it would take a Philadelphia lawyer to make it stick.

DEAR ABBY: Our 17-year-old daughter accepted an engagement ring at Christmas without our consent. She went steady with this boy for two years but we thought it was a puppy love affair.

Now that she has the ring she tells us she is sorry she has accepted it and wants to give it back. Every time she goes out with him she always comes home with the ring. She says when she tries to give it back he cries and sobs his heart out and talks her into keeping it. We don't like to interfere, but we know this child doesn't know her own mind.

Would it be wrong for her father to give the ring to the boy's father? They are nice people and the only thing wrong with the boy is that he's immature. Can you help us?

MRS. W.
DEAR MRS. W.: A girl who is old enough to accept an engagement ring is old enough to return it. And the young man had better learn to face up to a few major disappointments in life without sobbing his heart out.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow. Quite attractive and self-supporting. I was introduced to a very fine gentleman who is married to a woman who has been ill for about ten years. He is very lonely and unhappy. Do you think there is anything wrong with my going out with him? It would make his life so much happier. His wife is in a sanitarium.

MAUREEN
DEAR MAUREEN: Sorry, Dear, but he is still bound by a sacred promise to cherish his wife in sickness and in health. This is sickness. Don't tempt him.

Beef Imports Show Boost, To Continue through 1960

By George Hamrick
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Imports of low grade boneless meat for manufacturing purposes have risen sharply since 1956 — from 31.5 million pounds to over 444 million pounds in 1958 and perhaps to more than 600 million pounds in 1959.

(In 1958, imports amounted to 3.3 per cent of our total beef supply — also in 1958, U. S. exports of beef and veal amounted to 24.7 million pounds. 1959 estimates show that imports should account for an estimated 4.3 per cent of total beef supplies.)

From 1957 through 1959, U.S. imports of cattle have also risen. In 1958, more than a million head of cattle were imported into the U. S. and approximately during the same period 25,582 head were exported. This leaves a net import balance of three-quarters of a million head.

What has caused these expanded imports? The chief reason is that cattle production runs in cycles. Beef prices and imports also run in cycles, but in reverse order. Low grade cow beef is the type of beef most affected by these cycles.

When domestic cattle production is high, prices drop and the farmer's incentive to produce is weakened. This results in short supplies and rising prices in the period following. As farmers attempt to increase production to take advantage of high cattle prices, cows are held back and slaughter cattle are fed to heavier weights.

THESE TWO factors tend to cause a proportionally greater increase in the price of low grade cattle and the boneless meat that is produced from them. The high price for boneless beef tends to cause a corresponding rise in the price of boneless mutton. To help supply domestic meat demand, U. S. cattle numbers and slaughter buyers turn temporarily to the import market.

Live cattle imports have dropped somewhat during 1959 from their 1958 high. Almost all the cattle received from Mexico, and over 70 per cent of those from Canada, were bought by U. S. farmers for feeding prior to slaughter.

The abundant supply of feed grains encouraged U. S. farmers to look to Canadian livestock markets for feeders. The high prices offered by U. S. farmers for feeders also encouraged Canadian farmers to export feeders and thin stockers to this country.

With increased shipments of feeders from Canada to the U.S., the number of cattle put on feed in Canada dropped sharply during 1957 and 1958. Canadian prices of slaughter cattle rose during these two years and by the end of 1958 were above U. S. prices. Canadian exports dropped sharply in the last half of 1959. Owing to higher Canadian slaughter cattle prices, there have been sporadic shipments of slaughter cattle from U.S. to Canada in 1959.

The Mexican situation is somewhat similar to that of Canada. In February, 1959, the Mexican Government raised its export taxes on cattle. After a short ban on exports in April, cattle export quotas were set. The export quota for the period September 1, 1959, to August 31, 1960, is about 20 per cent below the previous 12-month period.

Various opinions have been offered as to the effect of meat imports on the U. S. economy. Producers and processors have viewed imports as a threat to their industry and have urged restrictions. On the other hand, some spokesmen for consumer groups have called for continued imports to help hold down price rises and curb further inflation.

Some consider the increased imports of manufacturing beef as beneficial to the cattle industry as well as the consumer. They say that imports, by helping maintain the supply of beef during the period of low output, tend to keep consumers eating beef instead of turning to other less expensive meat, such as chicken or pork.

We can expect continued heavy imports of boneless beef. Increasing shipments from Australia probably will account for about one-third of these imports. Mutton imports probably will be up substantially in 1960, although the rate of increase will be less during 1959 and 1960.

Imports of cattle during 1960 are expected to drop further, with Mexican shipments showing the smallest reduction. Most of the drop is expected to come from Canada. As

U. S. cattle numbers and slaughter increased after 1960, imports from Canada probably will continue low.

4-H Club News

Colt and Equitation Club
By Linda Trimmer

The February meeting of the Pickaway County 4-H Colt and Equitation Club was held at the home of advisor, Marvin Reichelderfer, Tarleton. The meeting was called to order by president Linda Warner and the 4-H pledge was given.

After the secretary's report was read, Marvin Reichelderfer gave a talk on dressing the reins, and Dr. Floyd Dunlap offered information on diseases that people can catch from horses. A discussion was held on health and folders were distributed to each member.

The next meeting will be at 2 p. m. March 20, at the home of member Drexel Poling.

Future Farmers of Monroe
By Patty Blankenship

On Thursday, February 11, 1960, at 8:00 p. m. in the Monroe School gym the first meeting of the Future Farmers of Monroe 4-H club was held.

We first elected officers and advisors. The club pledge was then said. We decided to make a change in our constitution and have our 4-H meetings on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month. We also discussed our club tours, dues, and community projects.

Each member and advisor was also asked to introduce themselves. The meeting was then adjourned.

David Bolender Is Named President of Holstein Club

David Bolender, Route 4, was elected president of the Pickaway County Holstein Club during the annual meeting of the group February 16. Mostyn Garrett, Route 1, Mt. Sterling, was elected vice president and Robert O. Barnes, of Williamsport, was elected secretary to serve with Bolender during 1960.

Walter Rase, Route 4, and Darrell Carter, Route 2, were elected as directors to the Ohio Holstein - Friesian Assn., representing the Pickaway County group. Rase was elected for a three-year term and Carter for two years.

Dr. Fordyce Ely, chairman of the Department of Dairy Science at the Ohio State University, was the annual meeting speaker. Dr. Ely emphasized "that in the past several years our dairy cattle selection has been a matter of multiplication rather than using sound principles of dairy cattle selection. Dairy farmers have been increasing production by purchasing more cows instead of selecting cows for greater producing capacity."

George Nichols, Field Secretary of the Ohio Holstein - Friesian Assn., was present and impressed on the group the value of a breed association and the importance of individual membership to this association. Nichols announced that the annual National Holstein-Friesian Assn. Convention for 1961 will be held in Cleveland.

George Hamrick, County Extension Agent, Agriculture, served as toastmaster for the annual meeting which was held in Williamsport.

Fremont Mayor Asks City Bus Fare Hike

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—Mayor C. W. Auster wants to raise fares on the city's bus system because of continued losses. The city took over the system six weeks ago after a private company quit, declaring the operation unprofitable.

The mayor proposed to City Council Thursday night that fares be increased a nickel to 20 cents. School fares would be increased from 10 to 12½ cents on school days.

The city lost $2,304 last month from operation of the bus system.

Search for Iron Ore

NEW YORK (AP)—The American steel industry is on a global hunt for new sources of iron ore to offset the depletion of the richer deposits in Minnesota's Mesabi range, traditional source of food for the nation's blast furnaces.

Steelways, publication of the American Iron and Steel Institute, says the industry has invested more than two billion dollars into this project in the last 10 years in Canada, Venezuela, Chile, Peru, Brazil and Liberia.

Pickaway Co. Has Damage From Aphids

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Corn leaf aphids caused damage to Pickaway County corn in 1959. The real damage may not have been noticed by many farmers. It is predicted that damage from these pests may be greater in 1960.

Aphids cause damage while corn is still in the whorl stage. They feed inside the whorl, protected from both weather and will be held in Cleveland. whorl opens to let the tassels grow out that the aphids are often discovered.

There are two ways that damage may be prevented but one method is much more reliable than the other. Ohio recommends the use of aphid resistant hybrids as being better than the use of available insecticides.

The best protection against aphid is in the seed corn bag. Many years ago selection began for plants that were resistant to borer and corn leaf aphid. Several strains with strong stalks and good root systems were selected as parents for hybrids that are now resistant to the corn leaf aphid and the European corn borer.

Seed corn dealers have resistant varieties and farmers should check their seed catalogue and make sure they use a resistant variety. Resistant varieties were grown next to non-resistant varieties at the Wooster Experiment Station and the aphid infestation was easily noted.

I noticed while checking the yield of a corn field in Pickaway County, that the yield had easily been reduced 30 per cent by aphid infestation.

Where or when aphids may strike your corn field is difficult to determine, but resistant varieties are good insurance.

Prepare for
'Diary' Play

The Circleville High School senior class play entitled, "The Diary of Anne Frank", is progressing, according to play officials today.

The play will be presented March 24 and 25 in the school auditorium. During the annual prize-giving in 1956, the "Diary" took all honors. It received the Critics Circle Award, the Antoinette Perry Award and Pulitzer Prize.

The prizes and public veneration for the play were a tribute to the spirit of an adolescent girl. Everything that one says about the play, one says about Anne Frank.

Anne was the youngest of a group of eight Jews who for two years and one month hid in a cramped attic over a warehouse to escape the Gestapo.

ANNE GAILY continued to keep her diary she had begun on her thirteenth birthday during her stay in the attic.

Thanks to the diary we know the homey details of this almost incredible example of the will to survive and of the selflessness of a few friends on the outside.

For more than two years, eight human beings never went outdoors, kept silent for about ten hours every day when strangers were working downstairs, never stood by a window, never discarded rubbish that might betray them, never drank water during the day, never did anything that might indicate that the attic was anything except an abandoned storehouse.

If eight people of different ages and from different families had succeeded in maintaining such a secret for a week, it would now seem remarkable.

But to keep the secret for two years would seem fantastic if the diary did not exist. The diary fundamentally is a portrait of the problems, privations and strains upon eight people living in constant fear of discovery and almost sure death.

The CHS seniors are working hard to bring the true spirit of Anne Frank here during their two-day performance.

How Weather
Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official U.S. Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Skies cleared over most of the state Friday night and temperatures dropped to as low as 8 at Chesapeake and 12 at Columbus and Zanesville.

Cloudiness and snow flurries persisted near Lake Erie where temperatures were near 20.

High pressure will dominate the state's weather today but a new storm over the Texas Panhandle is moving towards Ohio. Heavy snow warnings have been issued in the Central Plains states and the cloudiness will increase over Ohio tonight as the storm approaches.

Snow is expected over the state Sunday, possibly mixed with rain in the southern portion. Temperatures will rise slightly tonight and Sunday.

DiSalle Shuns Hand
In Committee Poll

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says he has no plans brewing for the selection of Ohio members of the Democratic National Committee.

The governor replied Thursday to reports that former U.S. Sen. Thomas J. Burke of Cleveland was under consideration. Burke is a candidate for 23rd District delegate in Cuyahoga County on DiSalle's May 3 primary convention delegate slate.

The reports were attributed to Ray T. Miller Sr., Cuyahoga County Democratic chairman, who has a convention delegate slate opposing the governor.

Darby, Saltcreek Pressed for Cage Wins

Scioto, Pickaway Stiff Competitors

The Pickaway County Basketball Tournament held true to predictions last night as Darby and Saltcreek were triumphant, but not before both quintets knew they had been in ball games.

Scioto battled Darby on even terms throughout the first half, but fell 73-60, before the Trojan onslaught led by Tommy Liff in the final two stanzas. Pickaway grabbed a third quarter lead over Saltcreek and maintained its margin until early in the fourth stanza before giving way to the warriors, 73-64.

This was the second night of tournament action at the County Fairgrounds' Coliseum. Last night's crowd numbered near the 900 mark while the opening crowd Wednesday totaled approximately 1,000. Tournament officials were pleased with last evening's turnout despite the weather.

Heroes were Darby in the contests of arch rivals. Darby's Liff was the team's standout as he dropped in 30 points while his high scoring teammate, Tommy Walters, was held to 13 markers.

ROY Sanders fought valiantly for the Buffaloes, racking up 25 points but he was unable to stem the second half tide that saw Darby pull away.

Ralph England was the second game standout, even though he played for a losing cause. The Pirate forward notched 26 points and grabbed many rebounds for the ever-battling Pirates.

Denny Valentine shared honors with his entire first five teammates as the Warriors never gave up, although they trailed by as much as six points midway in the third stanza.

Both contests were up and down and it was just one of those nights for fouling. A total of 47 were called in the Scioto-Darby encounter and 37 were committed in the Pickaway-Saltcreek tilt.

Fouling caused both games to slow down several times.

The opener found Darby off its form of last Friday night's Ashville game when it dropped an overtime, 78-72, battle. The Trojans were unable to master the Scioto defenses in the first half.

COACH Joe Corbett threw in a box zone, with Roy Sanders riding saddle on Walters. It proved effective. This was the fourth straight tilt that Scioto has held Walters to 13 points or under.

Darby led by as much as four points in the initial period, but saw a tie ball game at the first period mark, 12-12. Sanders and Liff traded buckets during the entire period as the Trojans held the rebounding edge throughout the stanza and then lost it for the final three quarters. Scioto finished on top in backboard play, 41-32.

Free throws held Darby in the contest during the second period as Sanders and Kaiser blazed away for the Buffaloes. Jerry Vance, Darby's pivot man, came through in this period with two turnaround jump shots and three free throws as Darby held a slim 27-25 lead at intermission.

Sanders had 10 points the first half, while teammate Kaiser hit for seven. Vance led Darby with 11 and Liff notched eight.

Liff, who has proven a thorn in Scioto's side for the past two years again was responsible for the Buffaloes' demise as he hit for four straight third period two-pointers and thrust Darby into a five-point lead.

Sanders was top man for Scioto as he threw in buckets from all over the court.

THANKS to Walters' five points and Liff's 12, the Trojans maintained a 47-38 third period lead, although Scioto still had the edge on the backboards.

Unable to halt Liff, the Buffaloes continued to slip during the final period. Roger Drummond came in for Tony Tufano and dropped through four free throws and garnered a tip-in to ice the Darby victory.

The Trojans led by 11 points as the minutes ticked away so they stalled, mainly because its two stout guards each had four fouls. Walters ended up fouling out.

The steady Liff, always at the right place at the right time, especially when Walters was held down, scorched the nets for 22 second half points. Walters came through with nine while Drummond and Alvin Cox each had six.

Sanders poked through 15 points and Bill Hoover added 10 with his deadly jump shot. For the game, Scioto hit 30.2 per cent from the field as Darby retaliated with 40.9 per cent on 27 of 66 field goal attempts.

The Trojans hit 19 of 29 from the charity line for 65.5 per cent compared to 62.8 per cent for the Buffaloes on 22 of 35 tries.

IN addition to connecting for 30 points, Liff had six assists, followed by Vance's and Kaiser's, five apiece.

The win moves the Trojans into the semifinals against the Ashville-Walnut winner. Darby now sports a 12-6 record. Scioto finished the season with a 5-13 slate.

"They said it couldn't be done", the popular slogan these days

but Pickaway just about did it. Defeated during the regular season by Saltcreek, 64-28, the Pirates were a better team last night.

They were torrid from the field and took advantage of saltcreek's many defensive mental errors to drive for inspiring scores. Due to the Warriors foul line advantage and well-balanced height, they chalk up win No. 9 against eight losses.

Saltcreek jumped to a 19-11 first quarter lead and many fans decided it would be no contest at this point. This feeling later proved to be false.

The Warriors continued to lead at halftime, 34-29, but the crowd didn't leave because the Pirates were beginning to spurt and show some of that never-say-die spirit that distinguishes a Pickaway squad come cage tourney time.

RALPH England grabbed 14 points during the first two periods while Saltcreek's Valentine and Chuck Spangler dropped in 10 each.

The second half whistle hardly had blown before the game turned. Before the amazed fans knew what hit, the score was tied, 38-38, mainly on England's seven markers.

Pickaway then took the lead on the basis of Richard Dean's four baskets and led 48-42 before Warrior Coach Wayne Evans called time and gave his squad a pep talk.

Saltcreek came within two points at the third period mark, 49-47, tied the score at 49-49, in the fourth period and went to a winning margin.

During Pickaway's third period lead, the upset feeling ran through the crowd and expectations sent the mags into hysteria.

Bill Haral provided the play-making for Pickaway, feeding England and Dean. He accumulated five assists and 11 points, seven coming at the foul line where he had seven chances.

DEAN, the freshman sparkplug, came off the bench to bank in seven buckets and a free throw before being retired via the foul route.

But Saltcreek notched 25 of 36 from the charity line for 69.4 per cent. Pickaway managed 16 of 22 for 72.7 per cent. The Pirates were called 23 times on fouls to Saltcreek's 14.

Turnovers were damaging to the Pickaway cause as it committed 21 to Saltcreek's 13, another decisive point. Both squads showed promise for the future and their consolidation could prove interesting in next year's county league.

Saltcreek now meets the Williamsport-Monroe winner in the semifinals Wednesday night. Pickaway closed out the season with a 2-17 record, but played much better than the slate showed last night.

Matmen Face Long Night

Three members of the Circleville High School wrestling team met defeat in the district tournament at Columbus last night.

John Williams, Phil Wing and Ernie Lindsey were downed in the long night of preliminary matches. The bouts started at 7 p. m. yesterday and didn't finish until about 12:30 a. m. today.

Coach John Current and eight other members of the squad left for Franklin Heights, the tourney site, at 9 a. m. today. They are slated to participate until 5 p. m. today.

Coach Current said he and his squad did not arrive home until 2:15 a. m. today following the long evenings yesterday. Several Columbus teams were allowed to finish early and head home, according to reports.

The district continues this Friday and Saturday at Franklin Heights.

U.S. Counting On Girls for Olympic Wins

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—Uncle Sam counts on his talented nieces to get him started today in the bagging of Winter Olympics gold medals.

It was up to a trio of blonde beauties, downhill skiers Penny Pitou and Betsy Spite, and figure skating queen Carol Heiss to get the United States rolling.

The first two championships went to Sixten Jernberg, Sweden's "king of the skis," in the 30-kilometer (18.6 miles) ski race, and the spectacular Canadian pairs figure skating duo of Bob Paul and Barbara Wagner. The Yanks had to settle for a third-place bronze medal in the pairs, earned by the husband-wife team of Ronald and Nancy Ludington of Roxbury, Mass.

At the end of the first day, Sweden, with a one-two finish in the cross-country race, led in the unofficial team scoring with 17 points. Canada was second with 13, Soviet Union third with 8, followed by Germany 7, the U. S. A. 4 and Finland 1.

By sundown Saturday the Soviets were a cinch to overhaul Sweden and then really roll it up on Sunday. The Sunday program includes Soviet specialties—the biathlon, a cross-country and rifle shooting event and the women's 1,500-meter speed skating.

Miss Pitou, of Gilford, N.H., and Miss Spite of Norwich, Vt., a couple of seasoned internationalists at 21, were the choices over a group of crack Europeans in the women's downhill ski race on KT22 Mountain, in one of the features of the "Ladies Day" program.

In two other finals for the girls, the Soviets were expected to overwhelm the opposition in the 10-kilometer (6.2 miles) cross-country ski race and the 500-meter speed skating.

Miss Heiss, the four-times world champion, figured to get a strong head start in the first day's compulsory competition of the figure skating championship. The compulsory figures will be finished Sunday. The free skating, in which Carol dazzles, winds up the event on Monday.

In the hockey openers, the United States came from behind to beat Czechoslovakia, 7-5; Canada downed Sweden 5-2 and the Soviet Union's defending champions routed Germany, 8-0.

The parties here aren't breaking and Roman records for revelry, but it's not uncommon to run into an athlete who's feeling a little high.

The boys aren't hitting the bottle at all throttle. They're gasping for air that isn't all there.

It's the altitude—6,200 feet. The air at the site of the Winter Olympics is so thin that a good wind will blow only a quarter of a mile before it dies of anemia.

The lack of oxygen hasn't bothered all the athletes, but complain that breathing conditions here are roughly as invigorating as those at the bottom of a lake.

Friday, for example, after the pairs' figure skating competition, some of the skaters collapsed.

Said Marika Kilius of Germany, who finished second with Hans Baumer:

"One week was not enough to get acclimatized."

Nearly all the cross-country skiers complained of short breath.

Sometimes even speed skaters can't get going fast enough to catch their breath. But they may have less ground for complaint than other athletes.

One official said they can go faster in the thin air. This, combined with excellent ice conditions, may produce more fallen records than athletes.

Smooth Logan Outfit Trims Tigers, 70-54, in Finale

That old third quarter nemesis struck the Circleville cage Tigers again last night. Visiting Logan took advantage of the situation and went on to record a 70-54 victory.

As has been the case several times this season, the Tigers managed only 10 points in the third frame while Logan went on a spree for 23. Up until that time it was a hotly contested battle, with both teams roaring at a furious pace.

A brilliant second quarter scoring surge by the Tigers was not enough to hold back the razor-sharp Chiefstains in the third and fourth frames. The CHS force turned in its best performance of the night in the second canto by scoring 12 consecutive points after being on the low end by the same number of markers.

Trailing 28-14 about midway in the second quarter, the Tigers suddenly started hitting from all angles to knot the count at 28 all. With only seconds remaining, the point-hungry Chiefstains finally cracked a bucket to take a 30-28 lead at halftime.

TIGER hopes took a new lease on life after the fine second quarter showing, but Logan quickly smothered the picture once the third period started. Both teams fought fairly even the last chapter, with Circleville scoring 16 and Logan 17, giving final proof that the third frame was the CHS downfall.

Circleville got off to a fast start in the first quarter by taking a 11-5 lead. The visitors knotted the count about halfway through the frame,

Laurelville Cage Protest Disallowed

The Ohio High School Athletic Assn. yesterday disallowed a protest filed by Laurelville High School due to lack of evidence.

The Wildcats principal, C. B. Chilcote, Wednesday submitted a protest to OHSAA Commissioner, W. J. McConnell, protesting the use of an ineligible player by Union Furnace High School in a basketball game Tuesday.

Union Furnace won 63-61. The player claimed ineligible was Nelson Walter, a 6' 4" senior center. Laurelville claimed he played for a Logan independent team.

According to a Laurelville spokesman, Union Furnace admitted Walter played independent basketball but claimed there was no official record of the game.

MCCONNELL said nothing could be done unless the official record of the game, with Walter's name appearing as having played, was produced.

According to OHSAA statute, no high school player can participate in any other type of basketball league outside of his high school. By virtue of the protest's dismissal, Union Furnace was declared winner of the Hocking County League.

The Wildcats will meet the only other league participant, Murray City, in the County tournament opener at 8 p. m. Thursday in the Logan High School gymnasium.

Winner of the contest will meet UF at 8 p. m. Saturday for the tourney title and a berth in the district meet.

ITS RE-SLATED tilt with the state's fourth ranked team, Carthage-Troy, will be played tonight on the Wildcat court.

then went ahead, 18-14, as the period ended.

The South Central Ohio cage league race became jammed at the top again last night as Greenfield knocked off highly touted Washington C. H., 52-50. The WCH loss pushed Circleville and Wilmington, a 100-57 winner over Franklin Heights, into a tie for first place on 9-3 records. Washington meets Pleasant View tonight and Greenfield is at Franklin Heights Friday, making it an almost sure bet that the SCO will end in a four-way deadlock, with Circleville, Washington, Greenfield and Wilmington sharing the honors.

Logan lived up to its advanced notices by blitzing the Tigers with two fine guards in George Stump and John Nelson and a rugged center in 6-6 Steve Dalton.

Dalton was the sharpest thorn in the Tiger side as he raked the nets for 22 points, at least eight of them coming on tip-ins. Stump, short but smooth and accurate, rattled away for 14 and Nelson was in cahoots with him all evening for 11. Bill Blake was another villain with 13.

Circleville again showed a well-balanced scoring combination as four men hit in double figures. Center Larry Hannahs, forced to look up to the towering Dalton, still managed to more than hold his own with six of 11 from the field and three foul shots for 15 points.

Jake Bailey found the range for 14 points, most of them coming on swift drives. Bob Shadley hit for 12 and Sam Weller had a perfect evening with four of four from the field and two for two at the foul line for a total of 10.

NELSON put Logan into a fast lead in the first quarter on a jump shot, but Bailey quickly evened it up with a long net stripper. Stump hit a foul shot for Logan, then Shadley smacked a jump shot and a charity for Circleville before Blake tied it, 5-5, on two foul tosses.

Weller then made good on two foul shots and Hannahs bettered things with two straight buckets to run the count to 11-5 in favor of CHS.

Lanky Dalton went to work for Logan by hitting a bunny and a charity while Circleville managed a free throw by Bailey.

Logan inched closer as Nelson smacked a jump shot, then deadlocked the count on Stump's bucket from under. Without warning the Chiefstains suddenly went into a press for good results as Stump hit another goal and two fouls to put Logan on front, (18-12), before Hannahs moved out to the post to hit a jumper.

The second quarter started with the Logan press forcing the locals into four bad passes which helped the visitors to a 26-14 lead before the home force could regroup.

Hannahs put CHS back in the fight with a jump shot and ever-dangerous Stump retaliated with a drive to make the score read, 28-16.

At this point, the Tigers cut loose with full force to score 12 straight points and knot the score. Hannahs and Weller hit four each. Shadley three and Dave Hicks one. Stump connected on a jump shot a second before the buzzer to push Logan into a 30-28 halftime lead.

Utilizing their tight press and the tipping ability of Dalton, the visitors wrecked Tiger hopes in the third quarter. Stump and Nelson were the main culprits of the press and Dalton furnished the scoring spark with 10 points.

The fourth quarter settled down to a give and take battle, but the Chiefstains held the distinct advantage by having accomplished their mission in the third quarter.

Logan won the contest with a 50 per cent shooting average, the result of 29 buckets in 58 attempts. Circleville hit 20 of 49 for 40.2 per cent. In the foul shooting department, CHS collected 14 of 22 and Logan 12 of 20.

Coach Jack Weikert's Kittens zipped to a hard-earned 38-33 verdict. The locals made a 16-6 half-time margin the basis of their victory.

Center Dick Kline commanded the center area under both buckets to lead the Kittens with 15 points, four of them on neat tips.

JIM Wellington came through with nine markers. Eight of his points were in the second half when he fired straight and true for four consecutive one-handers. Patterson was high for the losers with 14.

The Tiger varsitymen finished their regular season play with 10 wins and eight losses. Next competition will come in the Central District Class AA Tournament. Coaches Snouffer and Weikert travel to Columbus Monday night for the tourney drawings.

County Basketball Tourney Moves into Third Night

The last of the Pickaway County Basketball Tournament quarter-finals are slated for Monday in the County Fairgrounds' Coliseum.

Heated competitors Ashville and Walnut meet at 7:30 p. m. in the opener and Monroe takes on Williamsport at 9 p. m.

The Broncos are 17-2 on the year to hold the best county record. They downed Jackson in the first game of the 1960 tourney, 47-19.

Monroe (4-16) upset favored Atlanta (8-12) in the second game of opening night by out-positioning the taller Red Raiders under the boards and halting the deadly scoring of ace scorer Ronnie Morris (19.7).

MONDAY'S action tagged Ashville and Williamsport as the probable winners due to past performances. The Broncos toppled Walnut earlier in the year, 32-24, and Deercreek edged Monroe, 64-52.

Walnut always plays its best against Ashville and last year knocked the Broncos out of the tourney in the opening game 54-53. This year the Broncos 6' 2" front line will try to halt any such attempt.

Ashville holds a decisive height advantage over Walnut, plus a 27-point better team offense. But this means little when the arch rivals get together.

Walnut (9-8) will rely on Tom Harber (17.7) to gain his share of rebounds. Harber battled Ashville's great Bobby Hoover (20.9) on even terms in their initial meeting so a contest of pivot men is forecast.

Williamsport had its hands full against Monroe in its season's encounter and there is no reason to believe otherwise will happen Monday.

Monroe lacks a tall mar. to grab necessary rebounds, but makes up for smallness with perseverance, persistence and excellent positioning under the bankboards.

IF THE INDIANS keep up their outside hitting and lightning-like driving, Williamsport will have to rebound much better than it has in past outings.

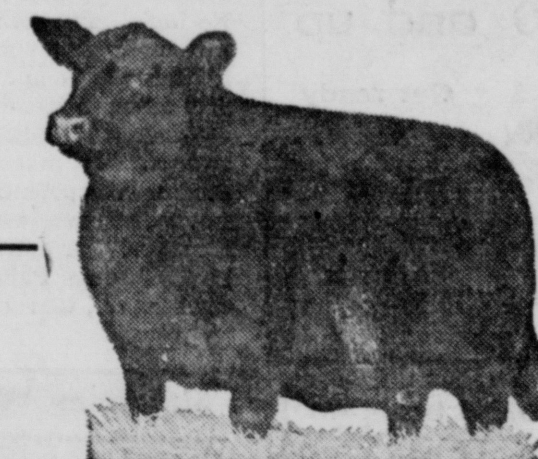

Monroe's Steve Fullen (18.3) is one of the bright stars on the county's horizon and if the Indians can keep that upset edge afire, anything can happen.

The Deers have their county individual scoring champion, David Myers (24.6), plus an experienced quintet of seniors. Monroe has one game on the coliseum under its belt while Deercreek plays its first so watch this meeting, it could be a surprise.

Winner of the Ashville-Walnut game meets Darby (12-6) in the semifinals at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday. The Williamsport-Monroe victor plays Saltcreek (9-8) in the semifinals at 9 p. m. Wednesday.

Beef Imports Show Boost, To Continue through 1960

By George Hamrick
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Imports of low grade boneless meat for manufacturing purposes have risen sharply since 1956 — from 31.5 million pounds to over 444 million pounds in 1958 and perhaps to more than 600 million pounds in 1959.

(In 1958, imports amounted to 3.3 per cent of our total beef supply — also in 1958, U. S. exports of beef and veal amounted to 21.7 million pounds. 1959 estimates show that imports should account for an estimated 4.3 per cent of total beef supplies.)

From 1937 through 1959, U. S. imports of cattle have also risen. In 1958, more than a million head of cattle were imported into the U. S. and approximately during the same period 25,582 head were exported. This leaves a net import balance of three-quarters of a million head.

What has caused these expanded imports? The chief reason is that cattle production runs in cycles. Beef prices and imports also run in cycles, but in reverse order. Low grade cow beef is the type of beef most affected by these cycles.

When domestic cattle production is high, prices drop and the farmer's incentive to produce is weakened. This results in short supplies and rising prices in the period following. As farmers attempt to increase production to take advantage of high cattle prices, cows are held back and slaughter cattle are fed to heavier weights.

THESE TWO factors tend to cause a proportionally greater increase in the price of low grade cattle and the boneless meat that is produced from them. The high price for boneless beef tends to cause a corresponding rise in the price of boneless mutton. To help

Pickaway Co. Has Damage From Aphids

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Corn leaf aphids caused damage to Pickaway County corn in 1959. The real damage may not have been noticed by many farmers. It is predicted that damage from these pests may be greater in 1960.

Aphids cause damage while corn is still in the whorl stage. They feed inside the whorl, protected from both weather and will be held in Cleveland. whorl opens to let the tassels grow out that the aphids are often discovered.

There are two ways that damage may be prevented but one method is much more reliable than the other. Ohio recommends the use of aphid resistant hybrids as being better than the use of available insecticides.

The best protection against aphid is in the seed corn bag. Many years ago selection began for plants that were resistant to borer and corn leaf aphid. Several strains with strong stalks and good root systems were selected as parents for hybrids that are now resistant to the corn leaf aphid and the European corn borer.

Seed corn dealers have resistant varieties and farmers should check their seed catalogue and make sure they use a resistant variety. Resistant varieties were grown next to non-resistant varieties at the Wooster Experiment Station and the aphid infestation was easily noted.

I noticed while checking the yield of a corn field in Pickaway County, that the yield had easily been reduced 30 per cent by aphid infestation.

Where or when aphids may strike your corn field is difficult to determine, but resistant varieties are good insurance.

supply domestic meat demand, U. S. cattle numbers and slaughter increased after 1960, imports from Canada probably will continue low.

Live cattle imports have dropped somewhat during 1959 from their 1958 high. Almost all the cattle received from Mexico, and over 70 per cent of those from Canada, were bought by U. S. farmers for feeding prior to slaughter.

The abundant supply of feed grains encouraged U. S. farmers to look to Canadian livestock markets for feeders. The high prices offered by U. S. farmers for feeders also encouraged Canadian farmers to export feeders and thin stockers to this country.

With increased shipments of feeders from Canada to the U. S., the number of cattle put on feed in Canada dropped sharply during 1957 and 1958. Canadian prices of slaughter cattle rose during these two years and by the end of 1958 were above U. S. prices. Canadian exports dropped sharply in the last half of 1959. Owing to higher Canadian slaughter cattle prices, there have been sporadic shipments of slaughter cattle from U. S. to Canada in 1959.

The Mexican situation is somewhat similar to that of Canada. In February, 1959, the Mexican Government raised its export taxes on cattle. After a short ban on exports in April, cattle export quotas were set. The export quota for the period September 1, 1959, to August 31, 1960, is about 20 per cent below the previous 12-month period.

Various opinions have been offered as to the effect of meat imports on the U. S. economy. Producers and processors have viewed imports as a threat to their industry and have urged restrictions. On the other hand, some spokesmen for consumer groups have called for continued imports to help hold down price rises and curb further inflation.

Some consider the increased imports of manufacturing beef as beneficial to the cattle industry as well as the consumer. They say that imports, by helping maintain the supply of beef during the period of low output, tend to keep consumers eating beef instead of turning to other less expensive meat, such as chicken or pork.

We can expect continued heavy imports of boneless beef. Increasing shipments from Australia probably will account for about one-third of these imports. Mutton imports probably will be up substantially in 1960, although the rate of increase will be less during 1959 and 1960.

Imports of cattle during 1960 are expected to drop further, with Mexican shipments showing the smallest reduction. Most of the drop is expected to come from Canada. As

Future Farmers of Monroe
By Patty Blankenship

On Thursday, February 11, 1960, at 8:00 p. m. in the Monroe School gym the first meeting of the Future Farmers of Monroe 4-H club was held.

We first elected officers and advisors. The club pledge was then said. We decided to make a change in our constitution and have our 4-H meetings on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month. We also discussed our club tours, dues, and community projects.

Each member and advisor was also asked to introduce themselves. The meeting was then adjourned.

David Bolender Is Named President of Holstein Club

David Bolender, Route 4, was elected president of the Pickaway County Holstein Club during the annual meeting of the group February 16. Mostyn Garrett, Route 1, Mt. Sterling, was elected vice president and Robert O. Barnes, of Williamsport, was elected secretary to serve with Bolender during 1960.

Walter Rase, Route 4, and Darrell Carter, Route 2, were elected as directors to the Ohio Holstein - Friesian Assn., representing the Pickaway County group. Rase was elected for a three-year term and Carter for two years.

Dr. Fordyce Ely, chairman of the Department of Dairy Science at the Ohio State University, was the annual meeting speaker. Dr. Ely emphasized "that in the past several years our dairy cattle selection has been a matter of multiplication rather than using sound principles of dairy cattle selection. Dairy farmers have been increasing production by purchasing more cows instead of selecting cows for greater producing capacity."

George Nichols, Field Secretary of the Ohio Holstein - Friesian Assn., was present and impressed on the group the value of a breed association and the importance of individual membership to this association. Nichols announced that the annual National Holstein-Friesian Assn. Convention for 1961 will be held in Cleveland.

George Hamrick, County Extension Agent, Agriculture, served as toastmaster for the annual meeting which was held in Williamsport.

City Bus Fare Hike

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—Mayor C. W. Auxter wants to raise fares on the city's bus system because of continued losses. The city took over the system six weeks ago after a private company quit, declaring the operation unprofitable.

The mayor proposed to City Council Thursday night that fares be increased a nickel to 20 cents. School fares would be increased from 10 to 12½ cents on school days.

The city lost $2,304 last month from operation of the bus system.

Search for Iron Ore

NEW YORK (AP) — The American steel industry is on a global hunt for new sources of iron ore to offset the depletion of the richer deposits in Minnesota's Mesabi range, traditional source of food for the nation's blast furnaces.

Steelways, publication of the American Iron and Steel Institute, says the industry has invested more than two billion dollars into this project in the last 10 years in Canada, Venezuela, Chile, Peru, Brazil and Liberia.

When Building Your New Home
Driveways Should Be Constructed In Five Phases

1. Excavation
2. Crushed stone sub-base 3" Thick
3. Crushed Stone Base Course 4" Thick
4. Water-proofed Aggregate base course 2 1/2" Thick
5. Hot Mix Surface Course 1 1/2" Thick

First excavate 11" deep. Next at once place 3" Course of crushed stone. This will allow settling and can be added to, as weak area develops. Always rake high spots into low area as settling takes place. In April base course aggregate should be laid and rolled. Then Black Top base Material Item 4 can be placed. Item 5 should be placed in 6 to 12 Months after Item 4. This allows time for settling so surface will not settle and be necessary to patch or leave water puddles.

WE FURTHER SUGGEST
This is the time of the year to apply crushed stone on your existing driveway to correct soft and low areas, for your Hot Mix Drive next summer.

BATTERED BEACH HOMES—Beach front homes in Rio Del Mar and other California coast settlements suffered damage like this from the pounding of waves and high winds. The storm left more than $70,000 in property damage as the Pacific rose up in wrath.

BATTERED WINE TANKER—The Angelo Petri, world's largest wine tanker, wallows near the San Francisco area coast, disabled by the gale-force storm. Most of the 40-man crew was taken off by U. S. Coast Guard helicopter, then the anchors finally caught and held. The Petri's got two and a half million gallons of refreshment and other cargo in her innards.

Darby, Saltcreek Pressed for Cage Wins

Scioto, Pickaway Stiff Competitors

The Pickaway County Basketball Tournament held true to predictions last night as Darby and Saltcreek were triumphant, but not before both quintets knew they had been in ball games.

Scioto battled Darby on even terms throughout the first half, but fell 73-60, before the Trojan onslaught led by Tommy Liff in the final two stanzas. Pickaway grabbed a third quarter lead over Saltcreek and maintained its margin until early in the fourth stanza before giving way to the warriors, 73-64.

This was the second night of tournament action at the County Fairgrounds' Coliseum. Last night's crowd numbered near the 900 mark while the opening crowd Wednesday totaled approximately 1,000. Tournament officials were pleased with last evening's turnout despite the weather.

Heroes were many in the contests of arch rivals. Darby's Liff was his team's standout as he dropped in 30 points while his high scoring teammate, Tommy Walters, was held to 13 markers.

ROY Sanders fought valiantly for the Buffaloes, racking up 25 points but he was unable to stem the second half tide that saw Darby pull away.

Ralph England was the second game standout, even though he played for a losing cause. The Pirate forward notched 26 points and grabbed many rebounds for the ever-battling Pirates.

Denny Valentine shared honors with his entire first five teammates as the Warriors never gave up, although they trailed by as much as six points midway in the third stanza.

Both contests were up and down and it was just one of those nights for fouling. A total of 47 were called in the Scioto-Darby encounter and 37 were committed in the Pickaway - Saltcreek tilt.

Fouling caused both games to slow down several times. The opener found Darby off its form last Friday night's Ashville game when it dropped an overtime, 78-72, battle. The Trojans were unable to master the Scioto defenses in the first half.

COACH Joe Corbett threw in a box zone, with Roy Sanders riding saddle on Walters. It proved effective. This was the fourth straight tilt that Scioto has held Walters to 13 points or under.

Darby led by as much as four points in the initial period, but saw a tie ball game at the first period mark, 12-12. Sanders and Liff traded buckets during the entire period as the Trojans held the rebounding edge throughout the stanza and then lost it for the final three quarters. Scioto finished on top in backboard play, 41-32.

Free throws held Darby in the contest during the second period as Sanders and Kaiser blazed away for the Buffaloes. Jerry Vance, Darby's pivot man, came through in this period with two turnaround jump shots and three free throws as Darby held a slim 27-25 lead at intermission.

Sanders had 10 points the first half, while teammate Kaiser hit for seven. Vance led Darby with 11 and Liff notched eight.

Liff, who has proven a thorn in Scioto's side for the past two years again was responsible for the Buffaloes' demise as he hit for four straight third period two-pointers and thrust Darby into a five-point lead.

Sanders was top man for Scioto as he threw in buckets from all over the court.

THANKS to Walters' five points and Liff's 12, the Trojans maintained a 47-38 third period lead, although Scioto still had the edge on the bankboards.

Unable to halt Liff, the Buffaloes continued to slip during the final period. Roger Drummond came in for Tony Tufano and dropped through four free throws and garnered a tip-in to ice the Darby victory.

The Trojans ticked by 11 points as the minutes led away so they stalled, mainly because its two standout guards each had four fouls. Walters ended up fouling out.

The steady Liff, always at the right place at the right time, especially when Walters was held down, scorched the nets for 22 second half points. Walters came through with nine while Drummond and Alvin Cox each had six.

Sanders poked through 15 points and Bill Hoover added 10 with his deadly jump shot. For the game, Scioto hit 30.2 per cent from the field as Darby retaliated with 40.9 per cent on 27 of 66 field goal attempts.

The Trojans hit 19 of 29 from the charity line for 65.5 per cent compared to 62.8 per cent for the Buffaloes on 22 of 35 tries.

IN addition to connecting for 30 points, Liff had six assists, followed by Vance's and Kaiser's five apiece.

The win moves the Trojans into the semifinals against the Ashville-Walnut winner. Darby now sports a 12-6 record. Scioto finished the season with a 5-13 slate.

"They said it couldn't be done", is the popular slogan these days

but Pickaway just about did it. Defeated during the regular season by Saltcreek, 64-28, the Pirates were a better team last night.

They were torrid from the field and took advantage of saltcreek's many defensive mental errors to drive for inspiring scores. Due to the Warriors foul line advantage and well-balanced height, they chalk up win No. 9 against eight losses.

Saltcreek jumped to a 19-11 first quarter lead and many fans decided it would be no contest at this point. This feeling later proved to be false.

The Warriors continued to lead at halftime, 34-29, but the crowd didn't leave because the Pirates were beginning to spurt and show some of that never-say-die spirit that distinguishes a Pickaway squad come cage tourney time.

RALPH England grabbed 14 points during the first two periods while Saltcreek's Valentine and Chuck Spangler dropped in 10 each.

The second half whistle hardly had blown before the game turned. Before the amazed fans knew what hit, the score was tied, 38-38, mainly on England's seven markers.

Pickaway then took the lead on the basis of Richard Dean's four baskets and led 48-42 before Warrior Coach Wayne Evans called time and gave his squad a pep talk.

Saltcreek came within two points at the third period mark, 49-47, tied the score at 49-49, in the fourth period and went to a winning margin.

During Pickaway's third period lead, the upset feeling ran through the crowd and expectations sent the mags into hysteria.

Bill Haral provided the play-making for Pickaway, feeding England and Dean. He accumulated five assists and 11 points, seven coming at the foul line where he had seven chances.

DEAN, the freshman sparkplug, came off the bench to bank in seven buckets and a free throw before being retired via the foul route.

But Saltcreek notched 25 of 36 from the charity line for 69.4 per cent. Pickaway managed 16 of 22 for 72.7 per cent. The Pirates were called 23 times on fouls to Saltcreek's 14.

Turnovers were damaging to the Pickaway cause as it committed 21 to Saltcreek's 13, another decisive point. Both squads showed promise for the future and their consolidation could prove interesting in next year's county league.

Saltcreek now meets the Williamsport - Monroe winner in the semifinals Wednesday night. Pickaway closed out the season with a 2-17 record, but played much better than the slate showed last night.

Matmen Face Long Night

Three members of the Circleville High School wrestling team met defeat in the district tournament at Columbus last night.

John Williams, Phil Wing and Ernie Lindsey were downed in the long night of preliminary matches. The bouts started at 7 p. m. yesterday and didn't finish until about 12:30 a. m. today.

Coach John Current and eight other members of the squad left for Franklin Heights, the tourney site, at 9 a. m. today. They are slated to participate until 5 p. m. today.

Coach Current said he and his squad did not arrive home until 2:15 a. m. today following the long events yesterday. Several Columbus teams were allowed to finish early and head home, according to reports.

The district continues this Friday and Saturday at Franklin Heights.

U.S. Counting On Girls for Olympic Wins

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—Uncle Sam counts on his talented nieces to get him started today in the bagging of Winter Olympics gold medals.

It was up to a trio of blonde beauts, downhill skiers Penny Pitou and Betsy Spite, and figure skater skating Carol Heiss to get the United States rolling.

The first two championships went to Sixten Jernberg, Sweden's "king of the skis," in the 30-kilometer (18.6 miles) ski race, and the spectacular Canadian pairs figure skating duo of Bob Paul and Barbara Wagner. The Yanks had to settle for a third-place bronze medal in the pairs, earned by the husband-wife team of Ronald and Nancy Ludington of Roxbury, Mass.

At the end of the first day, Sweden, with a one-two finish in the cross-country race, led in the unofficial team scoring with 17 points. Canada was second with 13, Soviet Union third with 8, followed by Germany 7, the U. S. A. 4 and Finland 1.

By sundown Saturday the Soviets were a cinch to overhaul Sweden and then really roll it up on Sunday. The Sunday program includes Soviet specialties—the biathlon, a cross-country and rifle shooting event and the women's 1,500-meter speed skating.

Miss Pitou, of Gilford, N.H., and Miss Snite of Norwich, Vt., a couple of seasoned internationalists at 21, were the choices over a group of crack Europeans in the women's downhill ski race on KT22 Mountain, in one of the features of the "Ladies Day" program.

In two other finals for the girls, the Soviets were expected to overwhelm the opposition in the 10-kilometer (6.2 miles) cross-country ski race and the 500-meter speed skating.

Miss Heiss, the four-times world champion, figured to get a strong head start in the first day's compulsory competition of the figure skating championship. The compulsory figures will be finished Sunday. The free skating, in which Carol dazzles, winds up the event on Monday.

In the hockey openers, the United States came from behind to beat Czechoslovakia, 7-5; Canada downed Sweden 5-2 and the Soviet Union's defending champions routed Germany, 8-0.

The parties here aren't reveling and Roman records for revelry, but it's not uncommon to run into an athlete who's feeling a little high.

The girls aren't hitting the bottle at full throttle. They're gasping for air that isn't all there.

It's the altitude—6,200 feet. The air at the site of the Winter Olympics is so thin that a good wind will blow only a quarter of a mile before it dies of anemia.

The lack of oxygen hasn't bothered all the athletes, but complain that breathing conditions here are roughly as invigorating as those at the bottom of a lake.

Friday, for example, after the pairs' figure skating competition, some of the skaters collapsed.

Said Marika Kilius of Germany, who finished second with Hans Baumer:

"One week was not enough to get acclimatized."

Nearly all the cross-country skiers complained of short breath. Sometimes even speed skaters can't get going fast enough to catch their breath. But they may have less ground for complaint than other athletes.

One official said they can go faster in the thin air. This, combined with excellent ice conditions, may produce more fallen records than athletes.

Smooth Logan Outfit Trims Tigers, 70-54, in Finale

That old third quarter nemesis struck the Circleville cage Tigers again last night. Visiting Logan took advantage of the situation and went on to record a 70-54 victory.

As has been the case several times this season, the Tigers managed only 10 points in the third frame while Logan went on a spree for 23. Up until that time it was a hotly contested battle, with both teams roaring at a furious pace.

A brilliant second quarter scoring surge by the Tigers was not enough to hold back the razor-sharp Chiefs in the third and fourth frames. The CHS force turned in its best performance of the night in the second canto by scoring 12 consecutive points after being on the low end by the same number of markers.

Trailing 28-14 about midway in the second quarter, the Tigers suddenly started hitting from all angles to knot the count at 28 all. With only seconds remaining, the point-hungry Chiefs finally cracked a bucket to take a 30-28 lead at halftime.

TIGER hopes took a new lease on life after the fine second quarter showing, but Logan quickly smothered the picture once the third period started. Both teams fought fairly even the last chapter, with Circleville scoring 16 and Logan 17, giving final proof that the third frame was the CHS downfall.

Circleville got off to a fast start in the first quarter by taking a 11-5 lead. The visitors knotted the count about halfway through the frame, then went ahead, 18-14, as the period ended.

The South Central Ohio cage league race became jammed at the top again last night as Greenfield knocked off highly touted Washington C. H., 52-50. The WCH loss pushed Circleville and Wilmington, a 100-57 winner over Franklin Heights, into a tie for first place on 9-3 records. Washington meets Pleasant View tonight and Greenfield is at Franklin Heights Friday, making it an almost sure bet that the SCO will end in a four-way deadlock, with Circleville, Washington, Greenfield and Wilmington sharing the honors.

Logan lived up to its advanced notices by blitzing the Tigers with two fine guards in George Stump and John Nelson and a rugged center in 6-6 Steve Dalton.

Dalton was the sharpest thorn in the Tiger side as he raked the nets for 22 points, at least eight of them coming on tip-ins. Stump, short but smooth and accurate, rattled away for 14 and Nelson was in cahoots with him all evening for 11. Bill Blake was another villain with 13.

Circleville again showed a well-balanced scoring combination as four men hit in double figures. Center Larry Hannahs, forced to look up to the towering Dalton, still managed to more than hold his own with six of 11 from the field and three foul shots for 15 points.

Jake Bailey found the range for 14 points, most of them coming on swift drives. Bob Shadley hit for 12 and Sam Weller had a perfect evening with four of four from the field and two for two at the foul line for a total of 10.

NELSON put Logan into a fast lead in the first quarter on a jump shot, but Bailey quickly evened it up with a long net stripper. Stump hit a foul shot for Logan, then Shadley smacked a jump shot and a charity for Circleville before Blake tied it, 5-5, on two foul tosses.

Weller then made good on two foul shots and Hannahs bettered things with two straight buckets to run the count to 11-5 in favor of CHS.

Lanky Dalton went to work for Logan by hitting a bunny and a charity while Circleville managed a free throw by Bailey.

Logan inched closer as Nelson smacked a jump shot, then dashed the count on Stump's bucket from under. Without warning the Chiefs suddenly went into a press for good results as Stump hit another goal and two fouls and Dalton connected on a layup to put Logan out front, (18-12), before Hannahs moved out to the post to hit a jumper.

The second quarter started with the Logan press forcing the locals into four bad passes which helped the visitors to a 26-14 lead before the home force could regroup.

Hannahs put CHS back in the fight with a jump shot and ever-dangerous Stump retaliated with a drive to make the score read, 28-16.

AT this point, the Tigers cut loose with full force to score 12 straight points and knot the score. Hannahs and Weller hit four each. Shadley three and Dave Hicks one. Stump connected on a jump shot a second before the buzzer to push Logan into a 30-28 halftime lead.

Utilizing their tight press and the tipping ability of Dalton, the visitors wrecked Tiger hopes in the third quarter. Stump and Nelson were the main culprits of the press and Dalton furnished the scoring spark with 10 points.

The fourth quarter settled down to a give and take battle, but the Chiefs held the distinct advantage by having accomplished their mission in the third quarter.

Logan won the contest with a 50 per cent shooting average, the result of 29 buckets in 58 attempts. Circleville hit 20 of 49 for 40.2 per cent. In the foul shooting department, CHS collected 14 of 22 and Logan 12 of 26.

Coach Jack Weikert's Kittens zipped to a hard - earned 33-33 verdict. The locals made a 16-6 half-time margin the basis of their victory.

Center Dick Kline commanded the center area under both buckets to lead the Kittens with 15 points, four of them on neat tips.

JIM Wellington came through with nine markers. Eight of his points were in the second half when he fired straight and true for four consecutive one-handers. Patterson was high for the losers with 14.

The Tiger varsitymen finished their regular season play with 10 wins and eight losses. Next competition will come in the Central District Class AA Tournament. Coaches Snouffer and Weikert travel to Columbus Monday night for the tourney drawings.

County Basketball Tourney Moves into Third Night

The last of the Pickaway County Basketball Tournament quarter-finals are slated for Monday in the County Fairgrounds' Coliseum.

Heated competitors Ashville and Walnut meet at 7:30 p. m. in the opener and Monroe takes on Williamsport at 9 p. m.

The Broncos are 17-2 on the year to hold the best county record. They downed Jackson in the first game of the 1960 tourney, 47-19.

Monroe (4-16) upset favored Atlanta (8-12) in the second game of opening night by out-positioning the taller Red Raiders under the boards and halting the deadly scoring of ace scorer Ronnie Morris (19.7).

MONDAY'S action tagged Ashville and Williamsport as the probable winners due to past performances. The Broncos toppled Walnut earlier in the year, 32-24, and Deercreek edged Monroe, 64-52.

Walnut always plays its best against Ashville and last year knocked the Broncos out of the tourney in the opening game 54-53. This year the Broncos 6' 2" front line will try to halt any such attempt.

Ashville holds a decisive height advantage over Walnut, plus a 27-point better team offense. But this means little when the arch rivals get together.

with its 18 million Africans. "I am dedicated to Allah," began the Sardauna with a trace of coolness. "I must do what I believe to be right. I will not budge one inch from my beliefs.

"I feel I must be frank, Mr. Graham. Some missionaries engage too much in politics and poke their noses in places which do not concern them."

The meeting ended five minutes later with the Sardauna bidding Graham and his party a polite goodbye — and refusing to be photographed with them.

About 90 per cent of the people of the Northern Region profess Islam. But religion in Nigeria is more complex than mere profession.

Often it is impossible to distinguish between pagan and Moslem. Many who profess Islam could be called animists, believing that all objects have souls and practicing taboos, witchcraft and ritual killing.

Many missionaries believe that the tolerances of Islam, like the possession of multiple wives, are responsible for the overwhelming trend toward the Moslem faith.

Virtually every village and compound has its ju ju — idols, omens and spirits.

These pagan customs of centuries are not easily discarded. Missionaries have discovered a smattering of Christian practices among the pagans. Their origins are uncertain, probably left by some wandering missionary of by-gone days.

Once a year in the village of Kujama a goat is slaughtered amid ritual ceremonies and its blood plastered over a small round mud hut, a sacred place in the compound.

Missionary Bob Cobb of Oklahoma City, who has preached the gospel in Nigeria for 10 years, says:

"I asked the headman why they performed this ritual. He explained 'somewhere I hear you make a gift to your god. You gave him lamb, gold and other things. You cook animals and feast. We give our god goat blood, which he likes.'"

"This kind of answer makes missionary work extremely difficult."

Reserve Puts Crimp in Wayne Drive

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Western Reserve put a crimp in Wayne State's hopes of getting the Presidents Athletic Conference basketball crown Friday night as the Red Cats took their first league win of the season, 37-30.

Terry Engel started with 37 point for Western Reserve as the Ohioans held the Michigan cagers' ace George Duncan to a slim 10 points.

The Tartars (9-3) now have a 4-2 PAC tally under John Carroll's 7-1 lead. The Red Cats (2-10) are 1-6 in the conference.

Marietta (8-9) swamped Hiram 109-73 in an Ohio Conference battle for a 4-5 OC record. Carl Wolfe was high point man for Marietta with 33. Mike Anderson dumped in 18 for the Tartars, now 1-10 in the OC and 6-10 over-all.

Sparked by Jim Keim's 24 points, John Carroll (9-4) held back a second session rally by Buffalo to trim the New Yorkers 77-75.

Aided by Dave Lewis' 25 points, Buffalo (3-19) narrowed the Blue Streaks' lead to 64-63 but never made the grade.

Central State entrenched its hold on second place in the Mid-western Conference as the Marauders clipped Kentucky State 86-83.

Turner Russell of the Marauders took scoring honors with 29 points to help overpower the Thoroughbreds' second session push for a victory. The losers' Charles Capps scored 18 points.

Second baseman Johnny Temple played in 149 games for Cincinnati last season and hit .311. He reached a new career high in home runs with eight.

When Building Your New Home
Driveways Should Be Constructed In Five Phases

1. Excavation
2. Crushed stone sub-base 3" Thick
3. Crushed Stone Base Course 4" Thick
4. Water-proofed Aggregate base course 2 1/2" Thick
5. Hot Mix Surface Course 1 1/2" Thick

First excavate 11" deep. Next at once place 3" Course of crushed stone. This will allow settling and can be added to, as weak area develops. Always rake high spots into low area as settling takes place. In April base course aggregate should be laid and rolled. Then Black Top base Material Item 4 can be placed. Item 5 should be placed in 6 to 12 months after Item 4. This allows time for settling so surface will not settle and be necessary to patch or leave water puddles.

WE FURTHER SUGGEST
This is the time of the year to apply crushed stone on your existing driveway to correct soft and low areas, for your Hot Mix Drive next summer.

Battered Beach Homes

BATTERED BEACH HOMES—Beach front homes in Rio Del Mar and other California coast settlements suffered damage like this from the pounding of waves and high winds. The storm left more than $70,000 in property damage as the Pacific rose up in wrath.

BATTERED WINE TANKER—The Angelo Petri, world's largest wine tanker, wallows near the San Francisco area coast, disabled by the gale-force storm. Most of the 40-man crew was taken off by U. S. Coast Guard helicopter, then the anchors finally caught and held. The Petri's got two and a half million gallons of refreshment and other cargo in her innards.

4. Business Service

When Building Your New Home

Driveways Should Be Constructed In Five Phases

1. Excavation
2. Crushed stone sub-base 3" Thick
3. Crushed Stone Base Course 4" Thick
4. Water-proofed Aggregate base course 2 1/2" Thick
5. Hot Mix Surface Course 1 1/2" Thick

First excavate 11" deep. Next at once place 3" Course of crushed stone. This will allow settling and can be added to, as weak area develops. Always rake high spots into low area as settling takes place. In April base course aggregate should be laid and rolled. Then Black Top base Material Item 4 can be placed. Item 5 should be placed in 6 to 12 Months after Item 4. This allows time for settling so surface will not settle and be necessary to patch or leave water puddles.

WE FURTHER SUGGEST

This is the time of the year to apply crushed stone on your existing driveway to correct soft and low areas, for your Hot Mix Drive next summer.

Missionary Problems Told Billy Graham by Moslems

KADUNA, Nigeria (AP) — Billy Graham has gained a fresh insight into the problems of Christian missionaries in Nigeria's predominantly Moslem Northern Region.

The globe-trotting evangelist recently held a brief audience with the Sardauna of Sokoto, prime minister of the sprawling province with its 18 million Africans. "I am dedicated to Allah," began the Sardauna with a trace of coolness. "I must do what I believe to be right. I will not budge one inch from my beliefs."

"I feel I must be frank, Mr. Graham. Some missionaries engage too much in politics and poke their noses in places which do not concern them."

The meeting ended five minutes later with the Sardauna bidding Graham and his party a polite goodbye — and refusing to be photographed with them.

About 90 per cent of the people of the Northern Region profess Islam. But religion in Nigeria is more complex than mere profession.

Often it is impossible to distinguish between pagan and Moslem. Many who profess Islam could be called animists, believing that all objects have souls and practicing taboos, witchcraft and ritual killing.

Many missionaries believe that the tolerances of Islam, like the possession of multiple wives, are responsible for the overwhelming trend toward the Moslem faith.

Virtually every village and compound has its ju ju — idols, omens and spirits.

These pagan customs of centuries are not easily discarded. Missionaries have discovered a smattering of Christian practices among the pagans. Their origins are uncertain, probably left by some wandering missionary of bygone days.

Once a year in the village of Kujama a goat is slaughtered amid ritual ceremonies and its blood plastered over a small round mud hut, a sacred place in the compound.

Missionary Bob Cobb of Oklahoma City, who has preached the gospel in Nigeria for 10 years, says: "I asked the headman why they performed this ritual. He explained 'somewhere I hear you make a gift to your god. You gave him lamb, gold and other things. You cook animals and feast. We give our god goat blood, which he likes.'"

"This kind of answer makes missionary work extremely difficult."

Reserve Puts Crimp in Wayne Drive

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Western Reserve put a crimp in Wayne State's hopes of getting the Presidents Athletic Conference basketball crown Friday night as the Red Cats took their first league win of the season, 80-64.

Terry Engel starred with 37 points for Western Reserve as the Ohioans held the Michigan cagers' ace George Duncan to a slim 10 points.

The Tartars (9-3) now have a 4-2 PAC tally under John Carroll's 7-1 lead. The Red Cats (2-10) are 1-6 in the conference.

Marietta (8-9) swamped Hiram 109-73 in an Ohio Conference battle for a 4-5 OC record. Carl Wolfe was high point man for Marietta with 33. Mike Anderson dumped in 18 for the Tartars, now 1-10 in the OC and 6-10 over-all.

Sparked by Jim Keim's 24 points, John Carroll (9-4) held back a second session rally by Buffalo to trim the New Yorkers 77-75.

Aided by Dave Lewis' 25 points, Buffalo (3-19) narrowed the Blue Streaks' lead to 64-63 but never made the grade.

Central State entrenched its hold on second place in the Mid-Western Conference as the Marauders clipped Kentucky State 86-83.

Turner Russell of the Marauders took scoring honors with 29 points to help overpower the Thoroughbreds' second session push for a victory. The losers' Charles Capps scored 18 points.

Second baseman Johnny Temple played in 149 games for Cincinnati last season and hit .311. He reached a new career high in home runs with eight.

Blondie
Blondie decided to take up painting for a hobby.
Wonderful dear.
It'll be an ideal outlet for my creative impulses.
Painting is one of the highest forms of artistic expression.
We'll get you started on your new hobby right away.
Slop Slop!
I wonder if Rembrandt started like this.

Rip Kirby
Keep that air pump going! Come on, Kirby, let's go...
Rip is nice to me. He'll be all right, won't he?
I hope so, Miss Minx... I hope so...
This is it! He's ready to step off...

Donald Duck
Mind moving over one seat? Pass it on, please!
Aisle 2
Aisle 3

Beetle Bailey
Sir, can I meet the new wacs?
It's okay with me if headquarters approves.
Ask the general about the men patting the new wacs.
Sir, are the men allowed to fraternize with the new wacs?
I guess so.
Well, it's okay with everyone.
See, sarge? Why don't you want to meet them?

Flash Gordon
Hold her, Zarkov! She's one of the aliens!
You're much too valuable alive, miss!
You'll learn nothing from me! No matter what you try!
We'll learn everything, no fear! Not with force — but with science!

Etta Kett
That's all! No dessert!
Mom's on a diet.
Come on! Let's head for the sweet shoppe!
Funny! — Mom's losing weight — but Dad's gaining like crazy!

Brick Bradford
There it is, headed toward Earth!
It will be destroyed when it enters the earth's atmosphere!
We know one thing! Someone wants to stop this operation!
Maybe that's why Dameon got cold feet! Maybe he knew there was a bomb aboard!
Could be! Dreadland are you tuned in? If so, contact Greenhorn Aircraft! We've them hold Mr. Dameon!

Heart Disease Is Nation's No. 1 Enemy

"The Heart Diseases are the nation's Number One health enemy. The Heart Fund is the nation's Number One defense." This has been the slogan of the Heart Association's campaign here and throughout the country during the current Heart Fund drive.

The facts prove both statements, according to local Heart Fund officials here.

Most of us are thoroughly aware by now that the heart diseases kill more Americans each year than all other causes of death combined. We know from day - to - day observation that the heart diseases aren't just a problem of old age; heart deaths among the leaders of our own community - men and women in the prime of their lives - are all too frequent.

And who can forget the children - more than a half million of them - who are affected by rheumatic fever, rheumatic heart disease and inborn heart defects?

WE NEEDN'T belabor these facts here. Our obituary pages, unhappily, remind us of them day after day.

But we do need to be reminded that, if this Number One enemy of our nation's health is to be fought successfully, it is up to us, its real and potential victims, to join the fight. The Heart Fund gives us the opportunity and the inspiration to do so.

The Heart Fund supports the work of the Central Ohio Heart Association and American Heart Association. A partnership of medical scientists and laymen, the Heart Association welcomes all of us into its ranks.

We can serve as volunteers in the annual Heart Fund drive, or as contributors whose gifts can speed victory over heart disease.

The Heart Fund, through the Heart Association, already has a sure of the impressive and encouraging progress that has been made against the heart diseases. It has made possible a life-saving program of research.

Through technical journals, scientific meetings and other means, it has supplied new knowledge of diagnosis, treatment and prevention of the heart disease to the nation's physicians for the benefit of all patients.

WITH THE help of all media of communication, it has been instrumental in implanting truth and hopefulness in the public mind. And, through community activities, it has helped guide thousands of cardiacs back to productive and happy lives.

On the strength of the record, local officials believe that the Heart Fund is truly the Number One defense against our Number One health enemy, and that the American people - physicians, scientists and laymen alike - may well be proud of having created it.

They earnestly hope that, through the present drive, local residents will give the Heart Fund the increased support it needs to relieve human suffering and save countless lives.

Methodist Slates 3rd African Study

The third in a series of church-wide studies on Africa will be conducted in First Methodist Church from 5-7 p. m. tomorrow.

The adult division will deal with the "Isms of Africa" during this session. Class periods are arranged to meet the interests of all ages down through the kindergarten level.

The evening begins with a snack supper, and closes with a devotion at 6:45 p. m. There is considerable interest manifest in these studies. One hundred and fifty persons attended last Sunday night in spite of the stormy weather. All interested persons in the community are welcome.

Diamonds were discovered in South Africa in 1867.

MONROE

By Marie Dingus

The Second Grade has an enrollment of 29 now. We were sorry to lose Danny Overly. He is attending Jackson Twp. School.

We had a nice Valentine party Friday afternoon. Everyone received many pretty valentines. We had games, prizes, and good refreshments.

We want to thank Mrs. John Seibel, Mrs. Carroll Sines, Mrs. Mrs. Floyd Zimmerman and Mrs. Howard Tallman for having our party, and being such nice Room Mothers. We also want to thank Cathy Fullen and Bill Blair for bringing extra cookies for the class.

Daisy Boyssel and Larry Williams are the only two in the Fifth Grade that can't seem to shake the "Flu Bug". Everyone else is back and busy.

WE HAVE JUST finished reading a unit of stories about "Young Citizens of Other Lands." The Pickaway County Bookmobile provided us with many other similar stories.

Roger Austin, Wilson Puckett, Jennifer Mowery, Donna Porter and Donald Adams have finished a map of the world showing the Spanish, French and English in the New World. The whole class hopes to profit.

Valentine's Day was Friday for Monroe and we in the Fifth Grade could hardly wait until 2 p. m. when the Room Mothers - Mrs. Earl Neff, Mrs. Kervyn Morrison and Mrs. Paul Upperman were here with a surprise party.

The Fifth Grade wants to thank all those who bought seeds from us. Our big problem is deciding how the money can do us the most good by choosing what the room needs among many things.

The Junior and Senior High School students are beginning to prepare for the County Music Festival. Several persons have been selected and all remaining selections will be announced by the 18th of February.

All students participating in the festival, which will be held April 1 at the Coliseum, will have tickets for sale on the date approaches.

MR. HEBBELER is encouraging parents of students in the Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth grades to take their children to this program.

The High School Chorus has been asked to provide lenten music at one service at the Trinity Lutheran Church. This group has been discussing ways of raising money to purchase choir robes for the school.

Since Allen Wickline has joined the Senior class at Monroe, they now have an enrollment of fifteen. Allen came from Darby Twp. School.

We have decided on a class play this year. The title of the play is "It's Great To Be Crazy". We have not decided on a definite date as yet.

To help us with our play, we are spending one week in English on speech. During that week we are to memorize our parts in the first act of the play.

JACKSON

The Junior-Senior Home Economics girls made a field trip to Fabric Center in Town and Country Shopping Center, Columbus, Tuesday.

They went to buy material for this semester's project. They will be working on lining of suits and coats.

They were accompanied by Mrs. John Diffendal, Miss Margaret Anderson and Mrs. Sally Anderson, their teacher.

Several Jackson students participated in the Ohio Wesleyan University High School Music Festival at Delaware, Ohio on February 6.

DONNA MOWERY and Linda Hinton were members of the band who performed under the direction of Leslie Sui.

Members of the 1,340 voice chorus under the direction of Herbert Yenser were: Barbara Diffendal, Judy Valette, Sharon Bushee, Mary Clair Short, Beverly Roy, Joy Maughmer, Kathleen McCloud, Sue Ann Radcliff, Martha Pontious; Taeresa Riffin, Philip Beard, Gary Thompson, Roy Whaley, Joe Good, Ted Pontious, Paul Atwood, Benny List, Sonny Chester, Larry Dudson, Sam Cornwell and Mike Emerine.

Accompany the group as chaperones were Mary Ellen Downs, Carol Sue Maughmer and Mrs. Hamilton.

Newcomers to the Jackson Future Farmers of America group were initiated Friday in the school auditorium. They wore dresses, hats and hose to school. Most of the freshmen boys and a few upper-classmen participated.

State Checks Up On Delegate Fuss

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown sent three aides to Cleveland today for hearings on protests against national convention delegate candidates backed by Cuyahoga County Chairman Ray T. Miller.

Protests were lodged against Elizabeth Mahony of Gates Mills, 22nd District candidate; Thomas P. Burke of Rocky River in the 23rd and Harvey J. Jackson Sr. of Cleveland in the 21st.

The names of all three are similar to district candidates on a delegate slate pledged to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle as favorite son.

DiSalle delegates are Commerce Director Margaret A. Mahoney in the 22nd, former U.S. Sen. Thomas A. Burke of Shaker Heights in the 23rd and Leo A. Jackson of Cleveland in the 21st.

Alaska fur seals are tagged by the United States Fish & Wildlife Service in order to trace their movements.
